BRITISH BOMB FOUR NAZI VESSELS OFF COAST OF GERMANY

Result of Raids Not Known—Enemy Plane Shot Down Off Scotland—Ss. Counsellor Sunk—Six Fishing Boats Sprayed With Bullets—Italian Ship Bombed and Set Afire

LONDON, March 8 (AP). — British flyers, returning from a new series of wide-ranging night flights, announced today they had bombed four Nazi auxiliary vessels off the German coast with undisclosed effect and dropped propaganda pamphlets for the first time over German-occupied Poland.

The Royal Air Force, whose pamphlet-dropping excursions were criticized only yesterday in Parliament, capped these exploits by shooting down a German bomber off North Scotland.

The Nazis carried out aerial attacks on North Sea shipping. They broadcast that in two nights they had sunk or badly damaged eleven merchant ships.

TOLL NOW FORTY-FIVE

The German bomber was the forty-fifth destroyed off the British coast since the beginning of the war and the second shot down off Scotland in as many days.

The Admiralty announced that the 5,068-ton British steamer Counsellor had been sunk by "enemy action" off the northwest coast and that four British seamen had been wounded by German warplanes which machine-gunned three British and three Belgian fishing boats. The crew of the Counsellor was landed at an undisclosed port.

British sources also announced that the 5,335-ton Italian steamer Amelia Lauro had been bombed and set afire off the southeast coast last night. Three of her crew of twenty-nine were wounded and one was killed. Survivors charged that a

SAYS FACTS WELL KNOWN

Mackenzie King Asserts Manion Misrepresented Air Training Plan

OTTAWA, March 8 (CP).—Prime Minister Mackenzie King tonight denied charges that failure of the Dominion Government to co-operate with the United Kingdom in affording air training facilities in Canada early in 1938 had delayed agreement on the Commonwealth air training plan and retarded development of Canadian aircraft manufacture.

In a fifteen-minute address over a national network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, the Prime Minister said that Conservative Leader Manion and his associates had "misrepresented" facts which were well known to Dr. Manion and were a matter of public record.

CANADA IS PIVOTAL CENTRE

The air training scheme now being developed in the Dominion by Canada, Britain, Australia and New Zealand has made Canada "a pivotal centre of the British Empire," the Prime Minister said.

"The Commonwealth plan could not possibly have been evolved in peacetime. It could not have been developed sooner. No earlier discussion of decision could have affected our military and financial position under the agreement as it was finally signed."

The agreement reached with the United Kingdom in 1938 to train fifty British pilots a year for three years, was all that had been intended in peacetime, the Prime Minister said. He ridiculed Dr. Manion's suggestion that if the

DYSART RETIRES FROM POLITICS

Attorney-General J. B. McNair to Succeed Premier Of New Brunswick

FREDERICTON, March 8 (CP).—The retirement of Premier A. A. Dysart was announced today. He will be succeeded by Attorney-General J. B. McNair.

The Premier's resignation from the Legislature also was announced. He has held a Kent County seat since 1919.

The announcement of Mr. Dysart's retirement as Premier of New Brunswick came at the end of a two-day caucus of Liberal members-elect of the Provincial Legislature. He has been Premier since 1935, and in the provincial elections last November he again led his party to victory.

ADVICE OF PHYSICIANS

In tendering his resignation to the caucus the Premier said he had been reluctantly forced to this decision by insistent advice of his physicians, and had remained in office during the last year against the advice of medical counsel.

R. J. Gill, M.L.A.-elect for Northumberland and chairman of the caucus, made the announcement of the Premier's retirement.

The selection of Attorney-General McNair to assume the Premiership was unanimous, Mr. Gill said.

Mr. Dysart's successor is fifty years of age. John Babbit McNair first was elected to the Legislature in 1935 and has been Attorney-General since then. Defeated in York in the last provincial elections, he won a seat in a Victoria by-election. He was a New Brunswick Rhodes' scholar.

GERMAN SHIPPING BADLY CRIPPLED

Almost a Quarter Captured, Destroyed or Immobilized in Neutral Ports

LONDON, March 8 (CP).—In six months of warfare the Allied blockade has immobilized in neutral ports, captured or destroyed almost a quarter of Germany's merchant shipping which just prior to the war totaled about 5,459,000 tons, authoritative British naval sources said tonight.

As a result of the blockade, about 1,000,000 tons of German shipping is now immobilized in neutral ports. Since the start of the war the Germans have lost about 300,000 tons either through scuttling or capture by the Allies.

The blockade also has rung down the curtain on the activities of Germany's large whaling fleet, of about sixty-three vessels as well as its fishing craft. During 1938 the whalers brought in 100,000 tons of oil. The blockade will will cut down the Reich's annual supply of fish by about four-fifths, it was stated.

German Ship Is Scuttled In Atlantic

PARIS, March 8 (AP).—Scuttling of a German merchant ship, the 5,846-ton Uruguay, by her own crew when a British warship overtook her in the North Atlantic, was reported today by French authorities.

They said also that German submarines had attacked a French convoy without success.

The Uruguay, operated by the Hamburg-South American Navigation Company, was reported February 11 to have left Pernambuco, Brazil, for an undisclosed destination.

Victoria Blooms for Eastern Markets

Field-grown daffodils began moving in quantity to the Prairie and Eastern markets on Thursday, and about 2,000 dozen are being shipped daily at present. This picture shows the blooms being packed for shipping at the farm of W. T. Edwards, Gordon Head. Mr. Edwards is one of the larger shippers.

Liberal Government, if Returned, Will Spend $500,000,000 for War Purposes, Federal Minister States at Crowded Meeting—Scores Plan to Nationalize Arms Manufacture

THE Liberal Government, if returned on March 26, intends to ask the people of Canada for $500,000,000 for war purposes next year, and taxes in many cases will be doubled, Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, disclosed here last night at a crowded meeting in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium in support of R. W. Mayhew's candidature for return to Ottawa.

Grounded on the Prairies by bad weather until late yesterday afternoon on his flight to the West Coast the minister was unable to reach Victoria in time to fill a previously arranged afternoon speaking engagement. He did not reach Vancouver until 6:15 p.m., and was immediately flown to Patricia Bay, landing there at 6:55 p.m., just as darkness was falling.

GOVERNMENT ARSENAL

Both the minister and Mr. Mayhew took issue with Lieut.-Col. George Drew, Ontario Conservative leader, on his advocacy of nationalization of arms and munition manufacture in Canada, stated at a Conservative meeting here the previous night.

ANGLO-FRENCH BOND CLOSER

Another Major Step Taken Toward Complete Economic Co-operation

LONDON, March 8 (CP). — Great Britain and France took another long step toward complete economic co-operation tonight, when the major industrial associations of the two countries announced establishment of a joint council to synchronize all their foreign trade.

The Federation of British Industries and the Confederation Generale du Patronat Francais (general confederation of French employers) issued the text of the agreement, making the two bodies for most purposes one organization.

They agreed primarily to:

IS PERMANENT FEATURE

1. Encourage co-operation and eliminate competition among the individual industries of their respective countries, "as a permanent feature of economic relations between the two countries."

2. Support each other in maintaining their existing markets and developing their export trade, and collaborate in apportioning production.

3. Trade between themselves rather than with third countries wherever possible, during the war.

4. Form a permanent Anglo-

WELLES TOLD OF AFTER-WAR PLANS

U.S. Under-Secretary Hears of Hope To Extend Alliance Into Pan-European Union

PARIS, March 8 (AP).—French Foreign Office sources said tonight that extension of the French-British alliance into a "Pan-European Union" after the war is one of the key ideas which French leaders have given Sumner Welles in the first two days of his three-day visit to Paris.

French Foreign Office sources said the conversations with Welles hinged more on what course the Allies would take after the war than on how the fighting is progressing.

Among the ideas advanced to Welles were the ways and means of forming around the Franco-British nucleus a co-operative international organization, perhaps based on the Pan-American union scheme.

CANDIDATES FILE NAMES

Brig. J. Sutherland Brown And Kenneth McAllister Are Nominated

Two of the four candidates anticipated in the Victoria Federal riding filed their completed nomination papers yesterday with Sydney Child, returning officer. Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown, C.M.G., D.S.O., of 1931 Bowker Place, is standing as Conservative candidate. Kenneth McAllister, of 2919 Richmond Avenue, is the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation candidate.

R. W. Mayhew, former member for the riding and Liberal nominee in the campaign, is expected to file his papers today.

Brigadier Brown's nomination was vouched for by F. A. Willis, and supported by the following subscribers: W. H. M. Haldane, Senator R. F. Green, R. A. Wootton, J. W. Jones, Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P., Francis Mulliner, Mrs. S. Roberts, James Lawther, Senator G. H. Barnard, John H. Frank, F. W. Maynard, Mrs. J. W. Adam, Reginald Hayward, George F. Salmon, Dr. J. D. Hunter, M.P.P., Robert D. Harvey, B. Stephenson, Major F. V. Longstaff, Frank Cameron, and Sir Richard Lake, in the order presented to the returning officer.

Munitions Go From France For Finland

PARIS, March 8 (AP).—France has shipped 175 airplanes and 496 cannon to Finland, it was disclosed today.

Supplementing the consignment were 795,000 shells for the cannon—presumably 75's such as performed brilliantly for France during the last war—200,000 grenades, 20,000,000 cartridges, 500 light machine guns and 400 sea mines.

Besides the armaments that Great Britain and France have contributed, Italy and Spain have been routing arms consignments through France for the Finnish armies.

NOT RENEWING ACCORD

PARIS, March 8 (AP).—The commercial accord with Russia, which provided preferential tariff treatment for a variety of Russian products, will not be renewed upon its expiration March 15. Importers were notified to this effect today.

Finns Fight Doggedly As Negotiations Give Small Cause for Joy

Russians Reported to Have Lost Heavily in Attacking Northwest Coast of Viipuri Bay—Eight Batteries on Ice Destroyed

HELSINKI, March 8 (AP).—There was no rejoicing in Finland tonight over the prospect of peace with Russia. On the streets of the capital men looked at one another with grave faces and said of the reported Soviet terms: "We cannot accept."

Others thought it was a "bargaining offer," which might be scaled down if Finland looked upon it seriously.

There was a hush of official silence on the maze of reports concerning negotiations, but the Finnish armies of the isthmus fought on doggedly in their defence of Viipuri, which was Finland's third city before it became a hollow shell of war ruins.

The High Command announced that 2,000 more Red Army soldiers had been killed north of Lake Ladoga, where the Soviet military leaders yesterday claimed the capture of four islands.

The High Command communique said that the Russians had lost heavily as they attacked all day yesterday against the northwest coast of Viipuri Bay. Fighting raged around the capes and islands at the mouth

RUSSO-FINNISH NEGOTIATIONS FOR PEACE IN THE LAST STAGE

Soviets Demand Acceptance of Their Conditions Before Even Armistice Arranged—Sweden Is Intermediary—Russian Demands for Large Strategic Areas Unacceptable in Helsinki

No Surface Evidence Seen Of Readiness to Stop War

STOCKHOLM, March 9 (AP).—Russo-Finnish negotiations for peace have reached the final stage, it was learned today, with Soviet Russia demanding that Finland accept Soviet conditions before there is even an armistice.

The Swedish Foreign Office confirmed that Sweden had acted as intermediary to establish contact between Finland and Russia. This work of mediation is understood to have taken several weeks, both parties being unwilling to take any step which might be interpreted as a sign of weakness.

ARMISTICE REFUSED

When the negotiations finally were begun, the Finns expressed a desire for an armistice during which an eventual peace might be discussed.

The Russians refused. They said if there was to be peace, the conditions must be established before hostilities were suspended.

Authoritative Swedish sources flatly denied that Sweden had pressed the Finns to accept Russia's [illegible] or that Sweden, in moving for peace, acted under German pressure.

(This dispatch was permitted to pass through a strict Swedish censorship.)

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, March 8 (AP).—The powerful efforts of Europe's peace-seekers to end the war between Soviet Russia and Finland penetrated tonight to the inscrutable inner councils of Adolf Hitler's Germany and showed signs of touching almost every great capital in the world.

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1940, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, March 8 (By cable).—Reports of Russian peace demands on Finland appearing in French and neutral newspapers confirm at least that attempts to end the Finnish war are afoot.

Apparently the Soviet demands are of such a character that Finland can not possibly accept them but, on the other hand, assurances have apparently been given in Moscow that there is no intention of subduing Finland altogether.

German diplomats in Stockholm are said to be behind the latest peace move, and it is also alleged that the Swedish Government is so anxious for peace that it has even gone the length of bringing pressure to bear on the Finns by suspending deliveries of war supplies on the excuse that all transport is needed for the Swedes' own defence preparations.

The Finns destroyed forty-seven tanks in the battle of Viipuri Bay, thirty of them going through the ice. Fighting is still proceeding ferociously, the Finns being determined to prevent the Russians from gaining a foothold on the shores of the bay and on islands of strategic value.

"Despite a year of Gestapo terrorism, the Czechs are still passively defiant against their Nazi oppressors, says Times' message from Belgrade.

Attempts by the Germans to get President Hacha and the National Unity Party to approve of a declaration of gratitude to Germany for occupying Czecho-Slovakia and to organie a Czech brigade to fight in the Siegfried Line have failed.

Five thousand former Czech army officers have been arrested during the past year. Hundreds are still on the run from the Gestapo in and around Prague, eluding their pursuers by sleeping in a different place every night.

Dealing editorially with Allied help to Finland, The Times says a great and immediate increase in the aircraft sent to the gallant little country would be an assurance that Sir Kingsley Wood's claims to vast progress in British air armament were justified.

The capacity of the Royal Air Force to meet all possible calls for machines and men will not be assured until the training organization is in full operation both in the United Kingdom and in Canada.

The newspaper adds that establishment of air training schools in France is an important step forward in preparation for large scale operations.

MINISTER TO VISIT ROME

Von Ribbentrop to Attend Meeting of Axis Partners —Finns at Berlin

BERLIN, March 8 (AP).—In the midst of Swedish-inspired efforts for peace between Finland and Soviet Russia, Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop will go to Rome tomorrow for a suddenly announced conference with Premier Mussolini on problems of interest to the axis partners.

Observers saw the Finnish-Russian conflict as among the more urgent of the problems. The meeting was disclosed officially shortly after Finland's former President Per Evind Svinhufvud, arrived here today by special plane with two Swedes from Copenhagen.

SOVIET MISSION ARRIVES

Also arriving in Berlin was a Soviet trade commission under J. F. Tewossjan to negotiate with German firms on deliveries of manufactured goods under German-Russian trade pacts. (There was no indication whether this group had any connection with the sudden peace moves in the Russian-Finnish conflict.)

Official Germany maintained the strictest silence regarding any German intervention in the northern war, but diplomatic circles expressed belief the Governments of Finland and Sweden would appeal to Adolf Hitler to use his influence

Overdue Packer Safe at Rupert

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., March 8 (CP).—The United States fish packer Magnolia, reported several days overdue on a trip from Ketchikan, Alaska, to Seattle with a crew of six aboard, is safe in this northern British Columbia port.

The sixty-foot vessel, which left Ketchikan eight days ago, is receiving temporary repairs at the Prince Rupert drydock after the ship stranded in Granville Channel, south of here last week.

SAVE MONEY BY CROSSING OCEAN

Cost of Insurance and Rent for Queen Elizabeth Less in New York

NEW YORK, March 9 (CP).—The New York Daily News estimated today that Great Britain will save more than $1,000,000 a year by bringing the 85,000-ton luxury liner Queen Elizabeth to New York for safekeeping during the war.

The newspaper said insurance underwriters reckoned the cost of insurance premiums at $1,800,000 a year if the liner remained docked in Britain. Premiums in New York for insurance against damage by fire, storm or sabotage, were estimated at from $400,000 to $500,000 a year.

Annual rental for Pier 90, where both the Queen Elizabeth and her sister ship, the Queen Mary are docked, was said by the News to be $189,000.

WATCHED WITH KEEN INTEREST

No Comment Offered in London on Russo-Finnish Peace Negotiations

LONDON, March 8 (CP).—Prospects of mediation of the Soviet-Finnish conflict are being watched with keen interest by official quarters in London, but the customary reserve is being maintained.

No official news of the peace talks has reached London, but dispatches from Scandinavia reporting mediation moves were displayed prominently in evening newspapers.

Finnish circles in London emphasized that the country was not prepared for "peace at any price." It was noted that the Soviets reported new demands exceed those outlined in the pre-war negotiations and include cession of the whole Karelian Isthmus, Viipuri and the Petsamo area.

The Finns are still prepared to concede what they offered in the pre-war Moscow negotiations, but no more.

HOLDING LENGTHENED LINE

The eastern half of the Mannerheim Line is still intact despite the Russian advance in the vicinity of Viipuri, Finnish circles pointed out. As a result the line the Finns are holding has considerably lengthened, while they are sorely handicapped by lack of reserves and manpower.

"An indication of the Finnish Government's attitude on the Russian peace proposals as reported in the press was given by the Finnish minister here, G. A. Grippenberg.

"We have always been ready to conclude peace with Russia but not on these bases," he said. "The independence of Finland must be preserved."

Cobb Meets Hogan Today in Final of Annual Tournament

Will Decide Holder of Beatty Trophy Event in Golf Meet at Colwood—Ted Colgate Defeats Jimmy Hogan in Final of Open Event, Two Up

P. H. COBB, who has been in Victoria since January, coming here from Tientsin, China, after the war situation in that part of the country closed his home course when the militia took it over for aviation purposes, will have a fine chance to lift the big prize in the twelfth annual Empress golf tournament today at the Colwood course. Cobb moved into the final of the handicap division yesterday by scoring a semi-final victory over the favored Lee Steil, Seattle, at the twenty-first green. His opponent for the silverware will be none other than Jimmy Hogan, Jasper, Alta., who took the measure of Ernie Brackat, Gorge Vale Club, 2 and 1.

Again the spotlight swung to the open final in the afternoon, which a large gallery followed from start to finish. Ted Colgate, the Colwood star, captured the honors and the Victoria Chamber of Commerce Trophy by beating Jimmy Hogan on the last green two up.

MATCH SQUARED

They started off by halving the first hole in fives and then Colgate won the second when Hogan's putting was faulty. The Jasper lad squared the match at the third by ramming down a long putt. On the

SAYS SEAFORTHS POORLY CLOTHED

Honorary Colonel Supports Charges That Overseas Unit Wore Cotton Underwear

VANCOUVER, March 8 (CP).—Brigadier-General J. A. Clark, C.M.G., D.S.O., commanding officer of the Seaforth Highlanders in the Great War and honorary colonel of the regiment at the present time, charged tonight the unit was clad in cotton underwear and shorts "of the shoddiest quality" when it left British Columbia last December to join the Canadian Active Service Force.

General Clark, former Conservative member of the House of Commons for Vancouver-Burrard, accused Hon. Norman Rogers, Defence Minister, of misrepresentation and quoted the Cabinet Minister as saying every member of the Seaforths was equipped with [illegible] British Columbia.

Hundreds of Vessels Equipped With New Magnetic Neutralizer

Electrical Girdle Provides Defence Against Magnetic Mines—How Current Energized and Neutralized Is Secret of Device

LONDON, March 8 (CP).—Great Britain has beaten Germany's magnetic mine with an electrical girdle for ships which neutralizes the trigger action of the underwater terrors. The arrival of the steamship Queen Elizabeth at New York gave the world its first inkling of the apparatus which was evolved and perfected by British scientists after three months of intensive work.

The apparatus consists of a snake of wire around the upper decks of the ship with electric current running through it. How the current is energized and neutralizes the magnetic field of the ship is the secret of the whole device.

MAKES SHIP NON-MAGNETIC

In effect it makes the ship non-magnetic. This destroys the effectiveness of the magnetic mine, which depends on the magnetic field of the passing vessel to fire it.

The apparatus has been installed on hundreds of ships ranging from yachts and trawlers to mighty battleships and ocean greyhounds like the Queen Elizabeth. Its effect is to turn each of them into a ship having no more magnetic effect than a wooden-hulled vessel.

The principle was evolved in a naval establishment and developed by naval technicians and scientists. The navy calls it "De-Gauss equipment." The Gauss is the unity of megnetic flux.

QUICKLY INSTALLED

It is the intention of the Admiralty to install De-Gauss equipment on every British ship. It can be installed on an ordinary vessel in four days but on a ship like the Queen Elizabeth it takes two weeks.

During experiments it was discovered that the magnetic fields differs on every ship, depending on many factors including the latitude in which it was built. This necessitates that each ship be energized differently.

Call Up Another Class in Britain

LONDON, March 8 (CP).—Calling up of 250,000 men, aged twenty-three, who registered on February 17, began today as the first of them reported to their units in conformity with Great Britain's compulsory military service.

The twenty-four-year-olds are to register tomorrow.

SAYS TAXATION MAY BE DOUBLED

only by the complete socialization of industry, and the great majority of the Canadian people had shown conclusively that they were opposed to socialism, Mr. Gardiner declared.

That, he said, was the conclusion that had been reached in Great Britain in the years before the war. So long as the Canadian people were opposed to socialism, industry could best be carried on on its present basis. The two or three machines that would be sufficient for the manufacture of arms for peacetime would be useless for the great volume that would be required in war.

Converted to the British view, that arms and munitions should be manufactured on a contract basis, Hon. Ian Mackenzie, when Minister of National Defence, had made contracts on exactly the same basis as Great Britain.

WORK TIED UP

Dealing with the Bren gun contracts, Mr. Gardiner reminded the audience that Canada was producing Bren guns and parts for both the Dominion and Britain, and was months ahead of the contract time. He asserted that the men who had made charges against the Government on those contracts—charges since proved to be incorrect—had tied up for a whole year the equipment used in the production of the guns.

Speaking in more general terms of war preparations, Mr. Gardiner asserted that it was not until the Munich affair that the Opposition in the House began to be convinced that Mr. King had been right in increasing the defence appropriation from year to year. Yet even in 1939 Dr. Manion accused him of using a "phantom war to scare the Opposition into voting the way they didn't want to vote."

"And now Dr. Manion is accusing us of being unprepared!" the minister said.

LACK OF UNIFORMS

He dismissed Dr. Manion's charges of lack of uniforms for the troops at the beginning of the war with the remark that not even England had been prepared to put her soldiers immediately into uniforms. Britain had put upon Canada the responsibility of supplying foodstuffs for the Allies, while getting ready for her (Canada's) own part in the war.

"We are a free, peace-loving country. We don't need to be a militaristic country, always ready for war," he said.

On the issue of freedom of speech, Mr. Gardiner declared that democratic institutions had never given to the people the right to say what they liked, regardless of the damage they might do to the great majority of the people.

Stating that he had been at St. Thomas a few days after the "supposed riot" there, the minister declared that he had found not the slightest evidence of any trouble there. On the contrary, the trainers were some of the brightest men from the British Isles, and the men "weren't polishing door-knobs; they were learning to repair planes."

BRITAIN TAKING TIME

"This isn't a war like any other war," Mr. Gardiner said. "Britain is taking her time to prepare for it. Men are being properly tained and led, and there is not going to be any sacrifice of life this time. There aren't any honorary colonels this time. There aren't any bands.

"One reason why we don't want conscription is that we want the people of themselves to give the same answer to those who say they won't fight, as the French-Canadians gave to Ernest Lapointe in the Quebec election."

Referring to Dr. Manion's tour of the Dominion, the minister remarked that the biggest thing the Conservative leader could say was that he would reduce the tax on radios.

R. W. MAYHEW

Mr. Mayhew, who preceded the minister, was equally positive in his reply to the proposal to nationalize arms and munitions production. That suggestion, he said, was one thing that proved Colonel Drew could not be much of a businessman.

A government arsenal capable of filling war requirements would cost $150,000,000 to $200,000,000, and it was doubtful even then whether all the work could be carried out in one arsenal.

"What a beautiful target for sabotage! And what would happen in case of fire?" he asked. To man such an undertaking it would be necessary to rob the industries of the country of their skilled men. By far the better course was to let industry be organized speedily to carry on the work.

"Other things Colonel Drew said are just as asinine as his Government arsenal. If you want someone to go to Ottawa for that, you had better get someone else, because I won't do it," he concluded.

Mrs. H. P. Hodges was chairman of the meeting, and seated on the platform also were Mayor Andrew McGavin, Hon. Dr. K. C. MacDonald, Provincial Minister of Agriculture; A. J. McGrath, M.P.P. for Cranbrook; W. T. Straith, M.P.P., and F. M. McGregor.

AFTERNOON MEETING

An afternoon meeting which had been called largely to enable Mr. Gardiner to renew acquaintance with former residents of the Prairie provinces, received with disappointment but with good humor the announcement of the unavoidable delay in his flight to the West Coast. The audience, which filled the auditorium, remained to hear addresses by Mr. Mayhew and Alan Chambers, Liberal candidate for the Nanaimo riding, and shorter speeches by W. T. Straith, M.P.P., and Carew Martin, chairman.

While reiterating the Liberal policy of prosecution of the war effort to the utmost, Mr. Mayhew stressed the importance of attacking and solving Canada's own domestic problems. In particular he spoke of the need for an improved plan of old-age pensions, for social security for the workers, in the form of unemployment insurance and contributory superannuation, and for vocational training for youth.

He warned against the danger of swinging, either precipitantly or gradually, towards a social order that would upset civilization and lead Canada into a situation similar to that of Germany and Russia today. "It is for us to stand on familiar ground, for we have a big job to do," Mr. Mayhew affirmed.

"BRITAIN SATISFIED"

Speaking of Canada's war effort to date, Mr. Mayhew declared that "the only people who are not satisfied with it are our opponents. Great Britain is satisfied.

"The people here can sleep comfortably in the knowledge that their shores were fortified. In time of war we can't say much about what our defences consist of, but we know they are there. I can understand the Prairie people asking where money for defence is being spent, but I can't understand that of the people of Victoria."

Of the dissolution of Parliament on January 25, Mr. Mayhew declared that had Dr. Manion been the leader the Conservatives would like to have, he doubted whether Mr. King would have taken the action that was forced upon him.

"I know and like Dr. Manion, but never at any time have I thought him a man capable of leading this country. The torrent of abuse and false statements he poured out in the House proved that conclusively. His temper got the best of him, proving that he is not the man for the pinches—and Canada is going to be in many pinches before this war is over," Mr. Mayhew said.

ALAN CHAMBERS

Speaking in a similar strain, Mr. Chambers declared that the Conservative candidates in the present campaign had done nothing but endeavor to besmirch the statemanship shown by the Liberal Government.

"Criticism based on a desire to help Canada's war effort is welcome and is needed, but criticism in an attempt to get into political office is doing Canada and Canada's war effort a grave disservice," he said.

The objective of the King Administration, he declared, was prosecution of the war to its conclusion on the basis of the maximum contribution wanted by Britain and France from Canada.

BRITISH BOMB FOUR GERMAN VESSELS

German plane deliberately dropped incendiary bombs on their ship. The ship was fully lighted and the attackers must have seen her Italian flag, they said.

BOMBING OF NAZI SHIPS

The Air Ministry, describing the activities of the Air Force last night, said that three German vessels had been bombed off the naval base of Borkum and another off the Island of Sylt.

Other sources credited the pilot of the lone plane which participated in the Borkum raid as saying one bomb had burst within twenty yards of one of the vessels. He said he did not see the other bombs explode because of the "storm of anti-aircraft fire" which engulfed him.

The same plane engaged in a battle with a Heinkel seaplane, which sought refuge in the clouds with the rear gun out of action.

Another British plane, flying on a different patrol, fought a twenty-minute duel with a second Heinkel, also putting the Heinkel's rear gun out of action.

On the home front, the British Treasury issued a £700,000,000 (about $2,800,000,000) vote of credit as a sort of blank cheque for the coming year's war expenses.

The Prime Minister said Dr. Manion had repeated his claim that the training scheme would have given Canada a great aircraft industry.

LOST TO CANADA

"This industry, he and others are now saying, has been lost to Canada and is being developed instead in the United States and in Great Britain."

He quoted Dr. Manion as saying the British set up plane manufacturing plants "which they came over here to establish in Canada," and that British agents came to Canada with orders for $100,000,000 but, because of the "cold reception" given their proposals, refused to let any contracts.

"This statement, that as a result of alleged refusal of training facilities the British did not set up manufacturing plants which they intended to establish in Canada, is not only a further misrepresentation of facts, but it is an insult to the British Government.

"The British Government made no attempt to bribe Canada with orders for airplanes."

CO-OPERATIVE GROUP

Two British aircraft missions visited Canada in 1938, and after studies and conferences, the visits resulted in the organization of a representative co-operative group of Canadian aircraft manufacturers for the manufacture of bomber planes.

"Initial orders were immediately placed. Canada's aircraft industry has since made marked progress. Only yesterday Sir Kingsley Wood told the British House of Commons that the first military aircraft manufactured in Canada for the British Government had already been flown. He added that large additional orders had been placed in Canada.

"Dr. Manion and his associates are now saying that the great British Commonwealth air training plan would have been further advanced, and would have cost Canada less, had the Canadian Government not refused to accept the proposals which Dr. Manion continues to allege were made by the British Government.

"No such proposals were made," the Prime Minister said.

TRANSPORTATION PLEA IS RENEWED

Company Explains Stand on Application to Operate New Bus Service From Oak Bay

No suggestion has been made that the City Council should break any agreement with the B.C. Electric Railway Company, Ltd., the Veterans Sightseeing & Transportation Company, Ltd., stated in a letter received at the City Hall yesterday.

Last Monday afternoon the Council considered a letter from the Public Utilities Commission, explaining that the company had applied for permission to operate a special bus route from Oak Bay to the Legislative Buildings.

By a unanimous resolution, the Council agreed to oppose the application and so inform the commission.

The company's letter asserted that seventy-two civil servants had asked for the direct bus route, and the proposed service would be solely for the benefit of those employed by the Provincial Government.

CUMBERLAND, March 8—A special meeting of the city council considered a special report from an electrical engineer on the lighting problem. The council studied the report carefully, it was learned from the chairman of the light committee, and then decided to make the Cumberland Electric Lighting Company a last and definite offer for its holdings. Failing acceptance of the offer of the council, the city may put in a pole line of its own.

MANION HAS BIG MEETING

Says People Realizing Mackenzie King Is Two-Sided Person

CHARLOTTETOWN, March 8 (CP).—The people of Canada are beginning to realize there are two Mackenzie Kings, Conservative Leader Dr. R. J. Manion tonight told a rally of Prince Edward Island supporters.

Before more than 2,000 persons who overflowed the Strand Theatre, many coming in on three special trains, Dr. Manion described the Prime Minister as an idealist and progressive when out of power, a politician and reactionary in power.

Mr. King, he said, was "the man who talks national unity but who, through his lieutenant's, fosters disunity.

SOCIAL LEGISLATION

"The man who advocates progressive social legislation on the eve of an election—but who is a real reactionary when he gets into a position to put the social legislation into effect;

"The man who promises to protect the common people—yet who lines up with the big interest;

"The man who preaches the rights of labor—yet who puts a lawyer or a professor in charge of that department and who appoints no representatives of labor on the war boards or commissions;

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

"The man who has been talking unemployment insurance since 1919—but who falls back on the Constitution as a reason for inaction;

"The man who is a disciple of the supremacy of Parliament, yet who does not hesitate to scuttle that Parliament for petty political purposes;

"The man who, on the night after the election of 1935, promised a 'new era' for the workers but who has since done nothing for the unemployed and the youth of our nation."

NATIONAL GOVERNMENT

While Mr. King asked whom Dr. Manion would include in his national government, Dr. Manion asked how many ministers Mr. King had named before the 1935 election. In fact, he doubted if many people knew the names of half of them now.

He said he shortly would compare the line-up in the present Cabinet with what a cabinet might be.

Dr. Manion noted that Australia had just formed "a National Government such as I propose in Canada."

TWO MORE FOR NANAIMO RIDING

MAJOR A. H. JUKES, D.S.O., O.B.E.

Two more candidates entered the political scene in the Nanaimo Federal riding yesterday when it was announced that Major A. H. Jukes, D.S.O., O.B.E., of "Vines," Saanichton, had entered the field as a candidate for New Democracy, and W. S. Povah, Nanaimo, was running as an Independent.

Major Jukes was nominated at a meeting held in Victoria last night, and his papers will be filed before official nominations close on Monday afternoon. Mr. Povah filed his nomination papers with W. M. Dwyer, returning officer for the Nanaimo constituency, yesterday.

F. S. Cunliffe, Conservative, and Ronald Grantham, C.C.F., have already filed their nomination papers; and Alan Chambers, Liberal, is expected to file his papers with Mr. Dwyer today.

FARMER IN SAANICH

Major Jukes is a farmer in Saanich, has served in several campaigns, including the Great War, and is one of the few Canadians to receive the special thanks of the Canadian Government for his services in the latter. He has served in India and Egypt, being for many years with a Gurkha regiment.

He is a graduate of the Royal Military College at Kingston, and of the Imperial Staff College, England, which he attended as a contemporary of Lord Gort. He has been at army headquarters and on the Indian frontier on the general staff.

Since leaving the army in 1928, Major Jukes has devoted himself to farming, chiefly grape culture, and has to his credit the development of a special black seedless grape. He has been actively interested in politics, and is a writer and student of monetary reform.

of the bay until nightfall, but the Finns held their positions.

Eight batteries of artillery which the Russians moved out on the frozen surface of the bay to support their attacks were destroyed by Finnish coastal guns, which also blasted numerous army tanks, the communique declared.

It said the Finnish Air Force had bombed and machine-gunned close-packed enemy units, transport vehicles, tank and troop columns, and artillery batteries crowded on the islands and ice of Viipuri Bay.

Between Viipuri and the Vuoksi River the Russians failed in several local attacks in which they lost seven tanks and two armored cars. Still farther west on the Karelian Isthmus, the Finns said, they repulsed an attempted crossing of the Vuoksi River, while in the vicinity of Paakole the bodies of 400 Russians killed in fighting the previous day were counted in front of the Finnish lines.

The Russians also were reported to have been beaten back in renewed attempts to advance over the frozen Gulf of Finland in the direction of Haapasaari Island, about sixty miles south of Viipuri and sixteen miles offshore from Kotka.

Russian aerial activity yesterday was directed chiefly against the port of Kotka, which is roughly half way between Viipuri and Helsinki. Six Rusian planes were shot down during the day, the Finns said.

Judge Gruff: "Aren't you ashamed to be here in court so often?"

Prisoner: "Why, no, your honor; I always thought it was a very respectable place."

Method of Entry to Air Force Reserve Through Enlistment

Selected Candidates for R.C.A.F. Chosen as Pilots Will Be Entitled to Rank of Sergeant and May Subsequently Be Given Commissions

OTTAWA, March 8 (CP).—The National Defence Department announced today that under the British Commonwealth air training plan the only method of entry to the Special Reserve of the Royal Canadian Air Force for elementary flying training will be through enlistment.

Previously, application could be made for a commission in the Special Reserve. By the change, all applicants who are accepted will be enlisted in the R.C.A.F. as aircraftsmen, second class. Applications now on file for commission in the Special Reserve are being returned.

Selection of applicants to take initial courses will be made by Air Force headquarters here, the department said, though this will be decentralized progressively until all selections will be made by recruiting centres.

Applications for appointment to the general list of the R.C.A.F. still will be received from pilots with flying experience, but, the department said, it is not anticipated consideration will be given pilots with less than 200 hours of flying to their credit. Ordinarily, commissions will not be given to applicants who have not previously held His Majesty's commission.

Special arrangements may be made from time to time to take in a limited number of men as aircraftsmen or as temporary sergeants, and commissions subsequently may be awarded.

SERGEANTS' RANK

Following completion of an initial ground training course, candidates will be selected for further training, and on completion of this those who have been selected for pilots will be entitled to the rank of sergeant.

Those elected for air observers will be promoted to acting sergeant or sergeant, while air gunners will be given the rank of leading aircraftsmen, aircraftsman first class or aircratsman second class.

A number of pilots and air observers passing out of training will be appointed to commissioned rank in the R.C.A.F.

Those candidates found unsuitable for duties as members of an aircraft crew will be given the opportunity of remustering for general duties on the ground, remustering to an Air Force trade on the ground, or of taking their discharge.

DAMAGED PLANE LANDED SAFELY

Emergency Work by Pilot Of Trans-Canada Saves Passengers and Crew

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. March 8 (CP).—Emergency work on a damaged landing gear, several minutes before a Trans-Canada Air Lines' eastbound passenger plane landed safely here this morning, saved the crew and three passengers from serious injury.

Captain Twiss radioed the airport a few minutes after he had lifted the ship and nosed her toward Regina that the gear had stuck when partly retracted.

While ambulances and police cars rushed to the airport, Captain Twiss used an emergency pump, got the wheels lowered again and brought the machine into a smooth landing.

Some disease or constitutional disturbance has left its mark in the form of shattered nerves, impoverished blood, and an exhausted condition of the entire system.

Women will find in Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills the remedy they need to supply food for the exhausted nerve force, and one that will help them back to sound, perfect health again.

Failed to Run the Blockade

Attempting to reach a German port from Aruba, Netherlands West Indies, the Hamburg-American Ms. Seattle was intercepted, it is reported, by Allied warships early this week. The Seattle is a modern freight and passenger carrier of 7,369 tons with accommodation for fifty passengers. A regular visitor in local waters, the Seattle left North Pacific ports last August, and after clearing from San Pedro, proceeded to Curacao, Netherlands West Indies, where she was interned.

RECOVERED FROM REEF

Department of Transport's D.M. Now Alongside Government Wharf

Badly damaged, the Department of Transport's forty-foot gasboat D.M. is alongside the Dominion Government Wharf here. She was brought in from Fiddle Reef, where she struck Thursday evening in a heavy squall, by the Island Tug & Barge Company's derrick scow No. 1 yesterday afternoon.

The D.M. went ashore on Fiddle Reef, near Oak Bay, while R. Nicholson and J. W. Berry, department employees, were working on the Fiddle Reef light. Captain A. J. Hansen was in charge of the craft. A cross wind set her ashore, where her bottom was stove in and she sank.

The crew of the D.M. were landed in a boat which put out to their assistance soon after the trouble was reported. Yesterday morning the derrick-scow was sent out by the Island Tug & Barge Company and the wrecked boat was salvaged and brought into the harbor.

AHEAD OF TIME

Making up time on her way across the Pacific, the Nippon Yusen Kaisha Ms. Hie Maru was due to reach William Head at 3 o'clock this morning. The liner was to go through to Vancouver as soon as pratique was granted. William Harold, of the local Great Northern Railway staff, boarded the ship at quarantine and proceeded with her to Vancouver.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT

The outlook for Canada Steamship Lines, according to reports from Montreal, in the current year is regarded as brighter than for a number of years. Not only does the company expect a larger volume of traffic on the Great Lakes as a result of increased business activity, but its shipbuilding division will be busier than in the past. In addition, the company has leased eight freighters to the British Government on a favorable rental basis. These are the ships which were moved to the Atlantic Coast prior to the close of navigation on the Great Lakes.

Davie Shipbuilding & Repairing Company, a wholly-owned subsidiary at Lauzon, Que., has an order from the War Supply Board for ten whaler-type craft. The value of this order is around $5,500,000. The company expects further orders.

Thirty Seamen Not Satisfied With Guarantees of Liner's Owners

NEW YORK, March 8 (AP).—Nearly thirty members of the Queen Elizabeth's crew quit the ship at Greenock, at the mouth of the River Clyde, when they learned they were sailing for New York, one of those who stayed with the liner disclosed today.

They had signed on, said the man, thinking they were going to a commonplace cruise from Greenock to Southampton, about 700 miles down the British coast. [illegible] were to get "four pounds two a[illegible]en" (about $18.50).

"[illegible] of those who got off," he [illegible]d, "were dissatisfied with [illegible]pany's guarantees, and [illegible] they had not been signed [illegible] New York.

[illegible]rantee of a bonus of £30 [illegible]133) was also made.

[illegible]pite this promise, about thirty crew members still were reluctant to continue with the voyage, so they got off," he said. "They were afraid to face the hazards."

VANCOUVER, March 8 (CP).—British Columbia Police here said today they had been asked by United States authorities to be on the lookout for the sixty-foot fish packer Magnolia, several days overdue on a trip from Ketchikan, Alaska, to Seattle.

No word has been heard from the craft since she left Ketchikan eight days ago with a crew of five or six men aboard.

EXPECTS WORD ON B.C. ISSUE

Hon. John Hart Returns after Negotiations on Refunding Of March Maturity

Returning yesterday from three weeks in the East in connection with British Columbia financing, Hon. John Hart said he expected word next week as a result of arrangements he made with respect to the refunding of $3,000,000 in provincial debentures maturing on March 15.

The Treasury had several courses open, and had not yet made a final decision, Mr. Hart said.

The Minister of Finance returned on the midday boat from Seattle, accompanied by Mrs. Hart, and went immediately to his home. Discussing the refunding next week, he said:

"Nothing definite has been settled as yet. We are negotiating along several lines, with more than one iron in the fire. I expect to hear next week from those with whom we have been in contact."

Studying for Career In Air Force

AUSTIN R. WEBSTER

WRITING to Captain H. Seymour-Biggs, who assisted him in making preliminary preparations to join the Royal Air Force, Austin Webster states that he qualified as an aircraftsman No. 1 in his last examinations, but had transferred to the clerical department and was studying for a commissioned paymaster's billet. He has signed up for nine years, and expects to reenlist at the end of that time. He is enthusiastic over his duties and happy about his work, and adds the money paid for transportation was a splendid investment for him. Webster left Victoria for England in January, 1939. Mrs. A. Webster, 1452 Begbie Street, is the young man's aunt.

REQUIEM MASS IS HELD FOR PRIEST

Rev. Father Osborne Laid at Rest—Many Attend Rites at St. Andrew's Cathedral

A final tribute was paid to the memory of the late Rev. Father John Osborne by the clergy and parishioners at St. Andrews Cathedral yesterday morning at 10 o'clock when Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rt. Rev. Msgr. A. G. Baker, V.G.

Assisting Msgr. Baker were Rev. Father J. A. Gaudette, deacon; and Rev. Father Roy Monahan, subdeacon. The Sisters of the Holy Angels, from Loretto Hall, sang the Mass, with Miss Marguerite McKay at the organ. The remains laid in state all night Thursday in the cathedral sanctuary where Father Osborne said the 9.30 o'clock Sunday Mass for many years.

Other priests in attendance were Rev. Fathers John Keenan, S.J., Townsend, B.C.; W. Lemmens, Tzouhalem; Major A. B. Wood, who represented Bishop F. P. Carroll, Calgary, in whose diocese Father Osborne formerly labored, Alex MacDonald, Nanaimo, and Fathers Planet and Vollings.

TRIBUTE IS PAID

Father Keenan spoke glowingly of Father Osborne's life as a priest and of his endeavors in various sections of the world. He mentioned the fitting tribute paid the deceased by a fellow priest, that "He was a pious priest."

The death of a priest was a great misfortune, Father Keenan said, for it meant one less Mass would be said until the departed one had been replaced.

J. A. Walsh, P. C. Shaw, Jack Neary, A. Costello, F. I. Doherty and J. Hammill, Seattle, members of the Knights of Columbus, were the pallbearers.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of Hayward's B.C. Funeral Co., Ltd., and interment was made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

SAYS DIVISION WELL EQUIPPED

Ralston Announces Overseas Force Left With Complete Gun Equipment

KINGSTON, Ont., March 8 (CP).—Hon. J. L. Ralston, Federal Minister of Finance, disclosed tonight that the First Canadian Overseas Division went to England with a full outfit of light and heavy machine guns, eighteen-pounder field guns and medium guns, in addition to rifle and personal equipment.

Answering Opposition criticism directed at the equipment of troops now in England, the minister, for the first time, made public the quantity of arms sent with the Canadian troops. He spoke at a meeting in support of Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of National Defence and Government candidate in Kingston.

Up to the present, the only official information on the subject was the fact that the troops were fully equipped as to rifles, uniforms and accessories such as blankets, shaving kits and other gear.

In a short time, Mr. Ralston said, deliveries of Bren light machine guns will start from the John Inglis Company at Toronto. Instead of 1,000 guns deliverable in the year starting April 1, the Government will receive 2,000 from the Toronto plant. As Bren guns become deliverable, they will replace the Lewis guns with which the division is now equipped and which are not obsolete.

C.C.F. Candidate Speaks Tonight

Kenneth McAllister, C.C.F. candidate in the Federal election, will speak on the attitude of all parties towards the war, at a public meeting to be held tonight in the James Bay C.C.F. clubrooms, at 27 Boyd Street, at 8 o'clock. Other speakers will also take the platform in support of Mr. McAllister.

LIBERAL PROPAGANDA

Untruths and half-truths are the stock-in-trade of Liberal speakers in the present Federal election campaign. One of the most notorious of the former is that Canada's first Division of troops was sent overseas "fully equipped." This can be answered by Major-General McNaughton himself, by the troops, and by those who saw them embark from Canada and disembark in Scotland. The First Division, on leaving this country, lacked modern equipment, even modern rifles. It had to be furnished, in settling down to training in England, with machine-guns and all armament of heavier calibre, including anti-tank and anti-aircraft guns, all of British manufacture. Another untruth broadcast by Liberal speakers, including Ministers of the Crown, is that the Second Division in training in this country is "fully equipped." The Liberal Party must be under the impression that this training is being carried on with the utmost secrecy, whereas it is not. There are thousands who know, through visual examination, that the Second Division is far from being equipped with the guns necessary for training purposes, and, according to the present outlook, it will not be furnished with them until its arrival in England.

In these and other ways the electors are being deluded by Liberal propaganda. There is a half-truth expressed in the statement, so often reiterated, that the coastal waters of the Dominion are being guarded by Canadian naval, land and air forces. There are British warships on both coasts of the Dominion, several of them using Halifax as their base. The Government, too, boasts that a voluntary war service registration bureau has been established. What is the use of it when those who volunteer are not put to work? Much, too, is made of the Dominion having undertaken to supply Great Britain with 420,000,000 pounds of copper, with 5,600,000 pounds of bacon and ham weekly, and with credits aggregating $92,000,000 for British purchases in this country. No mention whatever is made of these mineral resources, foodstuffs and credits being provided "for value received." That is where the half-truth of the propaganda enters the picture. Where there is a definite untruth again is the claim that "political patronage has been excluded from war effort." The National Liberal Federation must be under the impression that people living in Military Districts and in the vicinity of naval bases are both blind and deaf, or, for that matter, that they are equally unobservant and do not know what is going on in any industrial centre where war orders are being undertaken.

A COMPARISON

Mr. Ian Mackenzie, a former Minister of National Defence, who was removed from that post shortly after the outbreak of the War, has considerable temerity in attempting to institute a comparison between Canada's contribution of man power to the Great War and the present effort. In a broadcast speech he said that between 1914 and 1918, Canada sent four divisions overseas and that in the present War, Canada has "in all, five and a half divisions on actual service."

When War broke out on September 3, 1939, Canada had actually 45,000 men available for service in the Militia. Since then, according to the Liberals themselves, the number has been increased to 70,000. The peace establishment of the Canadian Militia, under the administration of Mr. Ian Mackenzie, was set at a personnel of 145,000. The coming of War found only 45,000 men available, the great majority of them only having a partial training. The Canadian Active Service Force is now some 70,000, a number short by 70,000 men of what was provided for as a peace establishment. Recruiting, shortly after War was proclaimed, was suspended for months, and is now only being engaged in spasmodically. Canada has an Army Division of 16,000 men in training in England. In the Great War, when it was in progress for six months, Canada had 33,000 men in training in England.

Mr. Ian Mackenzie points to the five and a half Militia divisions, he says are in training at present in Canada. That is an erroneous estimate to put before the people. There is only one division in the Dominion being trained for divisional purposes. The rest of the troops are on active service in detached units for the purpose of the defence of Canada. In the Great War, Canada kept four divisions in the field. The Dominion recruited almost 600,000 men for military purposes, and of these nearly half a million were sent overseas.

The comparison made by the former Minister of National Defence, who was so largely responsible for Canada's unpreparedness when War ensued, is wholly misleading. The only comparison possible at this time in the matter of man power is in the number of men overseas now and in 1914, or the beginning of 1915. In the latter year Canada had twice as many men with her Expeditionary Force as she has at present. Both contingents left this country equally as well, or as badly, equipped.

CHANGING PATTERNS

This will be a year of marked changes for British Columbia's primary industries. The rerouting of overseas lumber exports from the Pacific to the Atlantic seaboard is a climatic change in transportation. Fixed prices for base metals and enhanced gold values affect both divisions of the mining industry. Full-time production of pulp and paper, and new markets for canned fish have already been reported. In agriculture, the emphasis is on production of foodstuffs, especially those which may be transported and stored. Livestock is again at a premium.

Price levels, marketing and transportation are all being altered. There has been both a channelizing and a lumping of trade, with the shutting of some markets, the opening of others, and the new operation of export control. Though it is too early yet to envision the whole picture, there has been a relative decline on Pacific trade lines, and an increase with the business done via the Atlantic and by rail haul in Canada. It is possible the era of expanding commerce on the Pacific will be postponed, with very real consequences for Pacific ports. That, however, may not be the final result. The movement of millions of board feet of lumber across Canada to the shorter sea route on the Atlantic will have to be balanced by return freights if rail cars are not to return empty. If this opens up a western outlet for grain, perhaps two purposes may be served. Due to the comparative scarcity of shipping on this seaboard, the incentive for grain movement also disappears. It is even probable that British Columbia may see a fresh influx of eastern manufactured goods.

At present little is settled or determined. The demand for raw materials has been increased, and British Columbia has the raw materials to offer. On the other hand, unless transportation problems are solved there will be a slowing down, and not a speeding up, in industry. The whole position is one of change and flux. It is manifestly impossible for British Columbia to consume its own production, geared to export markets. In considering the picture of Canada as a whole, that should not be forgotten.

Had war not intervened this would have been an era of expanding trade on the Pacific, with all that would have implied. As it is, British Columbia can merely do what it is doing: keep alert for new opportunities, and hope for the best. Meanwhile, the growth in secondary industries, in manufactures, shipbuilding and the like, may serve to take up some of the slack.

NAVAL VOLUNTEERS

Rear-Admiral Walter Hose (retired) now living in England, who was in command of the Royal Canadian Navy during the Great War, says, in a letter to The Times, London, that the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve, now on active service, was started in British Columbia in 1913. A fortnight before war was declared in 1914, this force received official recognition, and 25 per cent of the crew of H.M.C.S. Rainbow, which went on patrol duty in August, 1914, were naval volunteers. The force was almost entirely demobilized after the Great War, but was started again in 1923 and put on a permanent footing, with centres in sixteen cities of the Dominion.

Admiral Hose says the regulation for training are very similar to those obtaining in the Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve, that the men have done many months of sea-going training in Canadian vessels, and a large number have gone on long cruises in ships of the Royal Navy. There are now several thousand officers and men in the Dominion, who, during the last seventeen years, have had a very practical naval training. A number of these drawn from the Canadian West are on active service at Esquimalt; others are at Halifax on various duties.

The oldest reader of The Times, London, has been discovered in the person of Mr. Thomas Pope, of Quarry Bank, West Derby, Liverpool, who celebrated his 105th birthday last January. He has been reading The Times regularly for 70 years. This is a record it will be difficult to surpass. In Regina it has been found that Mrs. John Hawkes has not missed a copy of The Leader-Post for 55 years, and The Leader was only established 57 years ago. That must be a record for a Saskatchewan publication, and one that may not be equaled in Canada. Who has read The Colonist for the longest term of years?

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

If you doubt that human nature was operating very much like human nature in the earliest written records of man, hear now the words of Ptah-hotep, the oldest known author of reputedly the oldest book in the world. Ptah-hotep was tutor to the son of King Assa in the Fifth Dynasty in Egypt, in times when it was a far more complicated business to die than it was to live. At the age of 110 years Ptah-hotep unburdened himself, in part, as follows:

* * *

"The prefect, the feudal lord Ptah-hotep, says: O god with the two crocodiles, my lord, the progress of age changes into senility.—Who will cause me to have authority to speak, that I may declare to him the words of those who have heard the counsels of former days?—All that which makes the soul equal penetrates him who hears it, and that which it says produces no satiety.

"Be not arrogant because of that which thou knowest; deal with the ignorant as with the learned; for the barriers of art are not closed, no artist being in the possession of the perfection to which he should aspire. But good words are more difficult to find than the emerald.

"If thou findest a disputant while he is in his hour, and if he is superior to thee in ability, lower the hands, bend the back, do not get into a passion with him. As he will not let thee destroy his words, it is utterly wrong to interrupt him; that proclaims that thou art incapable of keeping thyself calm, when thou art contradicted.—Imitate one who does not stir.

"If thou hast, as leaders, to decide on the conduct of a great number of men, seek the most perfect manner of doing so that thy own conduct may be without reproach. Justice is great, invariable, and assured; it has not been disturbed since the age of Osiris. To throw obstacles in the way of the laws is to open the way before violence.

"If thou art one of those who bring the messages of one great man to another, conform thyself exactly to that wherewith he has charged thee; perform for him the commission as he hath enjoined thee. Beware of altering in speaking the offensive words which one great person addresses to another; he who perverts the trutfulness of his way, in order to repeat only what produces pleasure in the words of every man, great or small, is a detestable person.

"Be active during the time of thy existence, doing more than is commanded. Do not spoil the time of thy activity; he is a blameworthy person who makes a bad use of his moments. Do not lose the daily opportunity of increasing that which thy house possesses. Activity produces riches, and riches do not endure when it slackens.

"If then thou art accustomed to this excess of flattery, and there be an obstacle to thee in thy desires, then thine impulse is to obey thy passion.—The man who is master of his soul is superior to those whom the gods have loaded with gifts. The man who obeys his passion is under the power of his wife.

"If thou art a leader of peace, listen to the discourse of the petitioner. Be not abrupt with him; that would trouble him. Indulgence will encourage him to accomplish the object of his coming.—The way to obtain a clear explanation is to listen with kindness.

"If thou desirest that thy conduct should be good and preserved from all evil, keep thyself from every attack of bad humor. It is a fatal malady which leads to discord, and there is no longer any existence for him who gives way to it.

"Be not of an irritable temper as regards that which happens beside thee; grumble not over thy own affairs. Be not of an irritable temper in regards to thy neighbors; better is a compliment to that which displeases, than rudeness. It is wrong to get into a passion with one's neighbors, to be no longer master of one's words.

"If thou art wise, look after thy house; love thy wife without alloy. Fill her stomach, clothe her back, these are the cares to be bestowed on her person. Caress her, fulfill her desires during the time of her existence; it is a kindness which does honor to its possessor. Be not brutal, tact will influence better than violence. Behold to what she aspires, at what she aims, what she regards. It is that which fixes her in thy house.

* * *

"Disturb not a great man.—If thou art powerful, respect knowledge and calmness of language. —Compose thy face even in trouble. —Let thy countenance be cheerful during thy time of thy existence. —Know those who are faithful to thee when thou art in low estate. —Let him who will win success place himself in the first rank.—The wise man is (not) satiated by knowledge. His tongue is in accord with his mind."

* * *

So said Ptah-hotep, a noble lord of the Fifth Dynasty, somewhere about 2700 B.C. But he spoke of the wisdom of an age that was past. Even so, human nature was very human in the days of King Assa. Nor, indeed, has it changed much since. There are still disputants who have their little hour.

WILL DISPOSE OF SOMENOS SCHOOL

Duncan Consolidated School Board Decides to Dispense With Building Not Now Used

DUNCAN, March 8.—At Wednesday night's meeting of the Consolidated School Board, it was decided, subject to the consent of the district and city councils, to dispose of the old Somenos school, which has not been used for school purposes for some years, and to place the proceeds to the credit of the school building fund.

Dr. Plenderleith, school inspector for the district, submitted his annual report on the teachers on the junior high school staff.

SAFETY SIGNS

The department of public works will be asked to have a yellow line painted to mark the centre of the Island Highway in the vicinity of the school zone and to have school signs placed north and south of the schools. The city will be asked to have Cairnsmore Street similarly marked from the school to the Hospital Hill. This is in line with recommendations made by the Provincial Police.

An effort to have all teachers' salaries paid on the first day of each month, instead of following the first meeting of the board, held on the first Wednesday, was voted down. This was the second effort to make the change this year.

Hope for the Best

During a meeting at New Westminster, a number of Fraser Valley farmers forecast that Spring weather would be disappointing. If it is as disappointing as the past Winter, we shall not complain . . . We heard of a strange case in which a high school student lost all his friends overnight. It appears that he could not afford new licence plates, and disposed of his car . . . A Heywood Avenue [illegible] strolling along a Beacon Hill [illegible] beach with his mother notice[illegible] jellyfish in the water. "Wh[illegible] that, mom?" the child a[illegible] "That's a jellyfish, dear," [illegible] answered. "What flavor [illegible] mom?" the boy then [illegible] . . . Last Saturday two [illegible] tators were heard convers[illegible] a football game. "I had to p[illegible] me silver wedding anniversary two days," one remarked. "How did that happen?" the second asked. "Me' silver wedding anniversary fell on a Saturday, and I always goes to football on Saturdays," the first replied . . . Bill, the Broad Street barber, rebelled on Wednesday afternoon when his better half instructed him to dig the garden. "I've had enough of working around here. I slave all day at the shop and then find more work at home. I'm going far away from here where you will not bother me," he moaned. Willie opened the front door as if to make good his threat, but quickly closed it again. "It's lucky for you it's raining," he added.—G.B.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of March 9, 1890)

Jubilee Hospital—John Teague, the architect, having announced the completion of the Jubilee Hospital, the building committee will on Wednesday next pay the hospital a visit to inspect and approve the finished structure. Furnishing is already in progress, and will be quickly rushed forward. It is hardly probable that the hospital will be ready for occupation before May, although the Royal Hospital should be vacated on March 31 and as H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught will visit Victoria in May, an effort will be made to induce him to formally open the new hospital.

Salmon Fleet—The ship British Isles, from San Francisco for Liverpool, arrived at her destination yesterday, in 110 days. She had the salmon pack of the Inverness, Balmoral and Queen canneries for last season, shipped by Turner, Beeton & Co.

Real Estate—Crane, McGregor & Boggs report the sale of the following properties during the past week: Suburban acreage land, $34,900; forty-three lots Fernwood estate, near Oak Bay Avenue, $16,075; three lots Victoria West, $900. Total, $51,875.

AIRCRAFT JOIN COAST SEARCH

Government Ship Estevan Is Also Standing By at West Coast Area

Planes of the Royal Canadian Air Force and the Government steamship Estevan joined this week in searching the West Coast of Vancouver Island north of Cape Cook for trace of any party of stranded mariners who might have occasioned smoke signals seen on the coast on March 4 and 5, the Provincial Police were advised.

The air force machines flew over the coastal area on Wednesday and Thursday, but were impeded by foggy weather. Meanwhile, the Department of Transport steamer Estevan, in the same vicinity, was asked to keep a lookout.

Shore patrols were sent out earlier, but have not yet reported. Storms on the coast have impeded operations by water.

During the day the Provincial Police were asked to keep a watch for the Seattle fish packer Magnolia, said to be overdue now en route from Ketchikan to Seattle with a crew of six men on board.

The Government steamship Estevan reported to the wireless station on Gonzales Hill last night that a cave had been discovered with a fire still smouldering nearby. A crude shelter had been built in the entrance of the cave, and milk tins, bacon and egg shells had been found. Tracks led to the cave and away. It was believed that the smoke had come from this campfire, lighted, apparently by a prospector or trapper. Ms. Broughton II had been searching all yesterday along the west side of Cape Cook, but had reported no signs of anything unusual.

CHAMPIONS CAUSE OF CONSERVATIVES

Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P., Addresses Meeting at Duncan in Support Of F. S. Cunliffe

DUNCAN, March 8.—"There are three roads to travel in this election—the Liberal road, the road towards Communism as represented by the C.C.F. and the Conservative road towards national government, which I ask you to support," stated Herbert Ancomb, M.P.P., Victoria, to a crowded audience in the Capitol Theatre, Duncan, on Wednesday.

Mr. Anscomb spoke in the absence of Lt.-Col. George A. Drew, Ontario Conservative leader, whose plane from Calgary was delayed by bad weather. The meeting, of which H. D. Evans was chairman, was in support of Frank S. Cunliffe, Conservative candidate in Nanaimo Federal riding.

Defending the cause of national government, Mr. Anscomb said that the people of Canada had been aroused as never before. He charged that the present Liberal Government was the worst since Confederation. "Are we going to fight our own fight, or are we going the low road?" he asked. "That," he declared," is the only problem we are facing today."

CHANGING REGIMES

Mr. Anscomb dismissed Mr. King's criticism that it would be inadvisable to change Governments now, because it would take two years for a minister to assume full duties. "Is Hore-Belisha's successor going to be two years learning his job?" he questioned. He dismissed also Mr. King's criticism that Dr. Manion, if elected, would lead an inexperienced government. "Does Mr. King know what sort of a Cabinet he will have until the election is over?" he asked.

Mr. Anscomb closed with a review of Conservative Governments in Canada. "They have done more for Canada in the development of inter-Empire trade than any other party. They have been the party that has stood for law and order and for the rights of all classes in the community and have shown greatest courage," he concluded.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill at the Esquimalt Drydock at any tide, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

SPECIAL GRANT MADE TO ROOMS

Citizens' Recreation Headquarters Received $448 From Chest In Two Months

The committee in charge of the Citizens' Recreation Rooms held its quarterly meeting on Thursday night, with H. H. Smith presiding.

R. F. Taylor, treasurer, reported that $448 had been drawn from the Community Chest funds during January and February, of which $446 had been expended. This amount included a special grant made to pay for kalsomining and cleaning the rooms. All accounts were paid to the end of February.

A. H. Hundleby reported numbers of men using the rooms equal to previous years at this period. A number of men had been sent out on odd jobs, and calls for men may be made to Empire 6932. The secretary appealed for books for the lending library, also playing cards, as the rooms had at all times relied on the generosity of the public to keep these items supplied for use of the men, who have no other source of supply or necessary funds to purchase these articles.

The committee decided to keep the rooms open during the Easter holiday period. Owing to a cut in the budget, new hours of operation during the Summer months will commence in April, when the rooms will be open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily. It is hoped it will be possible to arrange for longer hours operation early in the Fall.

LANGFORD LEGION TO HAVE CONCERT PARTY

LANGFORD, March 8.—The monthly meeting of the Prince Edward branch, Canadian Legion, was held on Tuesday evening in the Legion Hall, Langford, with E. F. Le Quesne in the chair. A vote of thanks was extended to all who had contributed to the local fund for the recent War Services Incorporated drive. Plans were made for an entertainment to be given by the Britannia Branch Concert Party in the Langford Legion Hall on Friday, March 15, at 8 p.m.

Wartime Youth Doing Their Bit In Old England

Sea Rangers are working in the River Emergency Service on the River Thames. Rangers join the Civil Nursing Reserve and take their examination unless they already hold certificates. This entails fifty hours' hospital training which must be taken from the twenty-four hours of off duty time which is allowed per week.

Lord de la Warr, president of the Board of Education, in his broadcast speech on "Youth in Wartime" urged Guiders to carry on with their companies, and not to desert them for one of the more spectacular services.

Madame Walther, chief commissioner of the Federation Francaise des Eclaireuses, the French Girl Guides, writes "I have just returned from a tour through many of our provinces, and in all the towns I passed through I have found our big Guide family united in service. A great deal of help was given at railway stations when evacuating children . . . on the second day a Government order went forth that those helping at stations would not question evacuees, to which a small Guide's answer was 'Understood.' It is forbidden to ask the evacuees questions. But it is not forbidden to speak kind words to them and try to do them good."

OFFICERS LISTED IN RIFLE BOOKLET

Chief J. A. McLellan and four other members of the police department are mentioned in Special Bulletin No. 309, published by the National Rifle Association. The publication embraces both Canada and the United States, and gives averages based on scores fired in registered pistol tournaments last year.

Constable Edwin Sturrock is listed as an expert marksman. Constables Charles Webb and Reginald Lanning, with William L. Ostler, police court clerk, are under the heading of sharpshooters. Chief McLellan is rated as a marksman.

According to Culbertson

The squeeze play is the most faithful friend that a consistent overbidder can have. When all the guide-posts of sound bidding have been ignored and a declarer finds himself in a contract that he fervently wishes were a little more logical and a little less optimistic his best course is to call upon the old reliable squeeze. If that fails him, nothing is left except surrender.

North's bidding was not characterized by pessimism, to say the least. It resembled the mode of progress of a jack rabbit, but apparently the goddess of luck favors the rash, as will be seen.

East opened the king of hearts and, when the dummy appeared, declarer felt far from comfortable. Six-odd was a "cinch," but where was the thirteenth trick? South's spade king would provide one discarding opportunity, and, if the club finesse "was on," declarer could get rid of another heart, but he still would have the heart jack of which to dispose. North probably had visions, of an apoplectic partner saying a few choice words about a player thim, North, who would throw away a cold small slam to go out for a very doubtful grand slam.

The ace of hearts won the first lead and declarer ran off five trumps. He then cashed dummy's ace and king of spades, discarding a heart from his own hand and led a low club to his king. With only four cards left to go, poor East was in trouble. This was the situation:

When the last trump was played, East could not discard safely. A club discard would establish dummy's suit for three winners; a heart would promote declarer's jack to winning rank. Thus, through the good luck of finding East with both the heart honors and the only club stopper, the grand slam contract was fulfilled.

Trend Irregular In Stock Market On Wall Street

NEW YORK, March 8 (AP).—Irregular tendencies crept into the stock market today despite quiet strength in aircrafts and an assortment of specialties.

While steels, motors and a number of recently rallying leaders finished behind minus signs, an assortment of favorites managed to post new highs for the year.

The Associated Press average of sixty stocks was off .1 of a point at 50. A month ago the composite was 50.5 and at this time last year it stood at 53.4. On the day 251 issues were up, 302 down and 214 unchanged. Transfers totaled 745,050 shares, compared with 692,346 the day before.

Aviations turned in the day's best performance as popularity of this group was revived by word the British-French Commission would meet plane manufacturers in New York next week to discuss terms of a possible $1,000,000,000 order.

New 1940 tops were touched by Curtiss-Wright, Bendix, American Airlines, Eastern Airlines, Du Pont, Motor Products and American Telephone. Holding modest advances were Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Lockheed, U.S. Rubber, International Harvester and Celanese.

Fresh rumors of peace feelers in the Russian-Finnish war brought another sharp rebound in the foreign sector of the bond market today.

Scandinavians were among the largest gainers, the rise also improved the positions of Italian, French, German, Australian and Japanese issues.

A number of United States Governments pushed to new high levels for the week's advance.

MONTREAL PRICE TREND BACKWARD

MONTREAL, March 8 (CP).—Stocks continued backward on the exchange today with the majority showing easier price trends at the close.

Light selling in constructions sliced fractions from Canada Cement, General Steel Wares and Hamilton Bridge. Bell Telephone, down a point, headed the list of losers in utilities as Montreal Power, Power Corporation and Shawinigan lost narrow fractions.

Other losers included Canadian Car, Bulolo, Hollinger, International Petroleum, Price Brothers, Imperial Tobacco and National Breweries.

Brazilian, briskly traded, gained 1-2 point. Howard Smith added a point and Canada Steamships, Massey-Harris, Imperial Oil and National Steel Car tacked on small amounts. C.P.R. in heavy turnover closed unchanged at 7 7-8.

WHEAT FUTURES REVERSE TREND

WINNIPEG, March 8 (CP).—Wheat futures prices on Winnipeg Grain Exchange recorded their first loss in a week's trading today when the steady trend broke in the final hour.

The price trend followed irregular southern markets and when Chicago sank near the end Winnipeg quotations followed to close 1-2 to 5-8 cent below yesterday's finish. May was quoted at 89 3-8 with July at 90 5-8 and October 91 3-4.

The Winnipeg market had not experienced a setback since the previous Friday.

An export business in Canadian wheat of about 100,000 bushels was confirmed with neutral European countries named as the chief buyers.

Cash grain traders reported only minor sales of No. 2 Northern wheat but price spreads were higher.

Coarse grain futures trading was the feature of the Winnipeg Exchange. General buying supported oats and barley and Scandinavian countries took substantial amounts of rye through export houses. Prices were hindered by hedging sales and jumped only slightly.

READY TO FILL ALLIES' NEEDS

Alan Chambers Says Efforts Will Be Guided by Britain's Wishes

SOMENOS, March 8.—Canada's duty in the present war was to contribute to the fullest extent in her power on the basis of the needs of Great Britain and France, as expressed by them, Alan Chambers, Liberal candidate for the Nanaimo riding, declared in a campaign address here last night.

"The constant supply of first quality food products will be one of our most important contributions," he said, "and none is more eager than the farmers of the Pacific Coast to play their part in this programme."

Explaining the functions of the agricultral supplies committee, working in conjunction with the Wartime Prices Board and the War Supply Board, he pointed out that the main problem confronting the farmers on this Coast was largely that of increased feed prices, which meant increased cost of production on the one hand and fixed export prices on the other.

To meet this situation, he said the agricultural supplies committee should make immediate arrangements for the supply of feeder grain from the Prairies to Coast farmers at export prices.

"All of us are most eager to do our best to win the war, but there is no reason why our farmers should be expected to produce food at a loss. Release of feeder grain at export prices at the Coast will change this," he said.

To-night, Mr. Chambers will address a meeting at Shawnigan Lake supported by A. D. Macfarlane, K.C.

CHAPTER XII.

"Yes. The fact is that he had all the land he needed and was not interested in this great tract. After it was given to him he did not want it. This is proved by what followed. The governor later carved slices out of the grant and gave them to other settlers, with no protest from Gandara. Later, when Don Jose succeeded Megares as governor and captain general of the province, he officially endorsed grants out of the tract, not as from him personally, but as from the crown. This seems to me conclusive evidence that he had abandoned his claim. His heirs took the same view, for they made no effort to hold any part of the grant. Purchasers did not even consider the Gandara grant as a cloud on the title when they bought from Aguilar's sons. When Russ Mosely went down to Mexico City and for a song got a quit claim deed from the Gandaras, the general opinion was that he was buying a dead horse, but he has gone into court with documents—forged ones, in my opinion—and is pushing to oust those in possession."

"Is the Hat T ranch on the old grant?"

"Not the original ranch, but a large part of the range is in it."

Rufe Jelks and a heavy-set man with cold bulbous eyes walked back through the building to the rear room.

Silcott nodded to the man. "Miss Ellot, this is Sheriff Lawson," he said. He added, ironically, "I suppose the sheriff has come to find out who destroyed your property last night so he can arrest them."

"As a matter of fact, I came to investigate the killing of Buck Sneve," he said bluntly.

"I reckon you know the story as well as I do, Lawson," Silcott replied. "Prentiss and a bunch of Hat T men attacked me and in self-defence I was forced to shoot Sneve."

"Not quite the way I heard the story, Jim," the sheriff answered.

"How did you hear it, Mr. Lawson?" Anne asked.

The sheriff looked the girl over before he answered. He was surprised at the question. He did not see how she came into this business.

"I heard that Jim here lay in wait for Prentiss and attacked him."

"Well, you'll be glad to know that isn't true," Anne told him. "I was there from the start. They began shooting at Mr Silcott while he was crossing the street. He ran into the doorway of an old abode house to escape. They kept firing at him, and the man who was killed called to the others that they had got him and ran forward. It was after this man Sneve had fired again from the middle of the road that he was hit."

"Where were you standing, Miss Ellot?" the sheriff asked.

"Beside the stage coach. In front of the office. I could see what happened."

"You'd be surprised, Miss, how differently folks see the same thing," Lawson said smoothly. "Some who saw this difficulty tell me Silcott started it."

"Would they be Judge Prentiss and the Hat T hands?" Rufe asked.

Lawson turned his cold hard eyes of Jelks. "You in on this, Rufe?"

Jelks addressed his answer to Anne. "The sheriff is a mite friendly to Russ Mosely, who nominated and elected him. You can't blame a politician for that."

The officer flushed angrily. "That's not true. But I aim to get to the bottom of this thing."

Jim put a hand on the arm of his friend. "I'll do the talking if you don't mind, Rufe. The sheriff is quite right. You're not in this." To Lawson he said, "That's all I ask, sir. Dig up the facts. The fuss started at the Trail's End an hour earlier. Prentiss and four of the Hat T riders were running on Jess Lamprey. That was none of my business. But the kid brother of Lamprey came in and tried to get his brother out of the jam. He wouldn't leave without his brother, and Jud started to beat him up. I told Jud to let the boy alone. We had words. Jud grabbed Jess and quirted him, then stormed out of the place. Probably they started drinking again and decided to get me."

"That's your story," the sheriff said.

"The one Russ tells will be different," Jim said evenly. "By the way, what is the one he has cooked up?"

Lawson looked at him, hard hostility in his gaze. "How would I know? I haven't seen Mr. Mosely."

"I expected he would have reached town by this time and would be giving out orders," Jim said.

Resentment flared in the prominent eyes. "That's an insult Silcott. I don't take orders from him or anybody else. "I've a good mind to arrest you right now."

"At your service," Silcott answered.

"Wait a minute." Anne faced Lawson, a flag of angry color in her cheeks. "If you do I'll have a poster printed telling the truth and have it hung up all over town."

ASSAULT CASE TO CONTINUE TODAY

Further evidence in the case of Frank Brown, charged with assaulting John Chilton on March 1, will be heard before Magistrate Henry C. Hall in the city police court this morning.

J. B. Clearihue, K.C., asked the court to deal leniently with the accused because of his excellent past record, and the fact that he might be going overseas shortly. He stated there had been a certain amount of aggravation prior to the assault, and urged that sentence be suspended in order that military authorities might deal with the case.

Claude L. Harrison, city prosecutor, charged Mr. Clearihue with making veiled suggestions, and asked for more detailed information on the question of aggravation.

Roy Banister, called to the stand by Mr. Clearihue, testified that he had been in the Hong Kong Restaurant with Brown early on the morning of March 1. He swore that Chilton cursed at them and made disparaging remarks against the army.

Mr. Harrison suggested that Chilton be recalled to the stand, but he could not be located. The adjournment was then granted.

BALTIC WOMEN LECTURE TOPIC

University Women's Club Meeting Addressed by Mrs. Wardley Smith

In happy contrast to the tragic plight of Finland today was the picture given to the University Women's Club of Victoria last night by Mrs. H. Wardley Smith, late of Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, of Helsinki as she saw it less than two years ago, a progressive, modern city, of fine architecture, beautiful up-to-date apartment blocks, superb libraries, and a free and happy people.

Under the title of "University Women of the Baltic Countries," Mrs. Smith gave her audience, following the dinner in Spencer's dining-room, an interesting and intimate sketch of a holiday tour through Demark, Estonia, and Finland in the Summer of 1938. The cruise, one of those annually arranged by the Federation of University Women in London, included nine women representing six universities. In the capitals of the three countries visited they were welcomed and most hospitably entertained by the local university women, through whom they were enabled to see something of the home life and social customs as well as of the public museums, the art treasures, the shops, architecture, public institutions and general culture.

Helsinki, she said, verifying the statement later with some tourist travel folders, in many ways reminded her of Victoria, the town being on a long peninsula, being cut into by the sea in much the same way, and having some similarity even in the arrangement of the buildings round the harbor. Thanks to the long Summer holiday granted to the schools because of the absence of holidays through the Winter, teachers were made available as guides, and they had an excellent introduction to the country. In Finland, as in Estonia, women were shown to have high recognition, a woman being the head librarian of the "Library of Learned Societies," a very coveted position. Most of the gardeners of Finland were women, and there were women in most of the professions. They also helped in some of the lighter forms of manual work. Child-bearing was an excuse for a holiday, but the woman's position would be held open for her.

The president, Mrs. Hazel Hodson, presided, and a short programme of dancing by a group of Oak Bay High School girls, and of vocal numbers by Miss Clemency Ord, accompanied by Mrs. Tidbury, followed the business session.

WARNS AGAINST FASCIST TRENDS

C.C.F. Candidate Speaks at Chemainus—Urges Economic Democracy for World Prosperity

"The attitude of some critics reminds one of those who opposed the coming of the locomotive on the ground that it would frighten children and turn the cows' milk sour," declared Ronald Grantham, Nanaimo C.C.F. candidate here Thursday night.

"I agree with Sir George Paish that if the Allies have a plan for restoring world prosperity, they should state it now, and have it discussed at a conference," said the candidate. "All peoples, including the Germans, would be glad to hear it."

"We ought to know clearly what the peace aims are," he said. "The matter is discussed freely in Britain, but our people, because of repressive laws, are afraid to discuss it. The dominant French view seems to be that Germany must be crushed, broken up, and held down forever. Is that our aim?"

WANTS SOCIALISM

Mr. Grantham declared that the only way the Allied Governments could help their own, or the German people, would be to bring about economic democracy. He warned that Fascism may develop in Canada if the home front is not defended. "And unless we work toward the alternative, socialism, we are doomed," he said.

"The old parties don't realize that institutions wear out just as clothes do, and must be adapted or break down," said Mrs. Laura Jamieson, M.P.P., speaking in support of Grantham. "The C.C.F. advocates a planned economy."

The speaker held that with many countries industrialized and all trying to sell abroad, competition becomes more violent. Within a nation, peoples are unable to buy back what they produce. Booms, depressions, and wars have been coming with increasing frequency.

Colonel Drew in Victoria

Lieut.-Colonel George A. Drew, V.D., K.C. (on the right and Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P., taken as the former arrived on the stage at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Thursday evening, where the Ontario Conservative leader addressed a capacity audience of 1,650 electors. Already known in Conservative circles as "the happy warrior," Lieut.-Colonel Drew contributed a new Conservative slogan to the campaign. Based on Colonel Drew's remarks, it is: "Ask Mr. Mayhew."

Five Fined—Two motorists were each fined $2.50 in the city police court for parking over the hour limit. One paid a fine of $10 for speeding past a school zone. Another was fined the same amount for exceeding the speed limit. One was fined $5 for failing to observe a stop sign.

To date most of the cases have been confined to the northern portion of the city, with Quadra Primary School the most severely affected on point of attendance. Since January 2, a total of sixty cases have been reported.

Dangerous Driving—Convicted on a charge of driving in a manner dangerous to the public at Myrtle and Shakespeare Streets, a motorist was fined $30 in the city police court yesterday. The defendant claimed his car turned over as the result of a blown-out tire, but Constables Edwin Sturrock and John D. Blackstock swore that all four tires were hard when they examined the machine.

Arts and Crafts—The Island Arts and Crafts Society will hold its monthly meeting in the Y.W.C.A. at 8.15 p.m. next Wednesday. During the evening an exhibition of films will be given by Miss G. Is Acquitted—A motorist charged in the city police court with driving in a manner dangerous to the public along Yates Street on March 1 was acquitted yesterday by Magistrate Henry C. Hall. Evidence was presented that a passenger in the front seat of his car arose to free his coat, bumped into him and caused the machine to swerve into another car. Constable Larry Greenwood described an investigation of the accident.

Cars Collide — An automobile driven east on Yates Street by Lloyd S. Brown, 1716 Lee Avenue, collided with a car owned by Irving Sangster, Mount Douglas Crossroads, which was parked on the south side of Yates Street, about 8 o'clock last night, a city police report stated. After the collision Brown's car continued on and struck a telephone pole. Police said the accident was caused when a right front tire on Mr. Brown's car blew out.

Two Charges — A Prairie visitor who admitted that he drove his wife around delivering doughnuts was fined $5 in the city police court for failing to possess a driver's licence. He was also charged with driving in a negligent manner at Douglas and Bay Streets on February 28, and remanded until Monday for judgment. Another motorist involved in a collision with the defendant was remanded until Monday. Evidence was given by Constables George Clayards and Sturrock.

Solarium Report — The medical superintendent of the Queen Alexandra Solarium, Dr. Glenn Simpson, in his February report, showed that during the month 460 laboratory examinations were made on the children, the number of patients in the Solarium at the end of the month being fifty-six. Six new patients were admitted during February, one was discharged, there were thirty-eight X-ray examinations, 767 physiotherapy treatments and exercises, six consultations, one operation, and fourteen teeth extractions. Five plaster casts were taken for celluloid splint purposes, and one plaster reinforcement.

COULD DEBATE ARMY MATTERS

Brig. J. S. Brown Says Reasonable to Have Professional Soldier at Ottawa

"I think it a reasonable request that you should be permitted to have one professional soldier in the House of Commons with a knowledge of service requirements and the ability to deal with matters affecting the defence of Canada," declared Brigadier J. Sutherland Brown, Conservative candidate in Victoria riding, who addressed a meeting of electors in George Jay School last night.

Brigadier Brown fully supported Manion's National Government policy of full co-operation of all parties in Canada's war effort. He severely criticized Mackenzie King and his administration for what he termed "failure to allow the people of Canada to secure information concerning the conduct of the Government since the outbreak of war," and characterized dissolution of Parliament as "an unwarranted act of defiance."

MINISTER'S REMOVAL

The Brigadier said that the removal from office of Hon. Ian Mackenzie as Minister of Defence was an admission of "inefficiency of that particular department of Government," and added that the deposed minister should not have been given another post in the administration. Brigadier Brown also discussed proposals for the nationalization of radio broadcasting, a Federal highway undertaking and uniformity of education and other laws across the Dominion.

Robert A. Wootton was chairman and the other speakers were Warwick Rawson, president of the Victoria Junior Conservative Association, and Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P., for Victoria.

MINISTER TO VISIT ROME

in obtaining favorable Russian terms on which peace could be negotiated.

Officials, however, evaded questions whether Svinhufvud would see Hitler.

ON WAY TO ITALY

As an explanation of his presence, it was said that the former Finnish President was en route for a vacation in Italy. Finnish quarters said Svinhufvud, too, was going to Rome and there appeared to be a chance he might travel with Von Ribbentrop.

It was acknowledged that at any rate the aged Finnish statesman who succeeded in getting German aid for the Finns in 1918 against Russia, would be available in Italy to give Premier Mussolini an authoritative account of the Helsinki Government's point of view.

A "Finnish commercial delegation" already is in Berlin. Its objective has been reported as the stepping up of shipments of certain German goods as provided in trade agreements.

While Germans are silent on the possibility of intervention in the Finnish-Russian conflict, diplomatic sources asserted Sven Hedin, famous Swedish explorer, visited Hitler several days ago with a private plea from King Gustaf of Sweden that he lend assistance to end the war. Hedin also visited Field Marshal Herman Wilhelm Goering.

NEGOTIATIONS IN LAST STAGE

achieved within a week — perhaps sooner.

Finns, however, were grave. In Helsinki, the word "unacceptable" was heard everywhere in reaction to Russia's reported demands for large and strategic areas of the invaded nation. These demands may or may not be in the form of an ultimatum expiring this week-end.

NO PLAIN EVIDENCE

Moscow, likewise, showed no surface evidence of readiness to make peace. Dire predictions about "the numbered days" of the Finnish Government continued to appear in the press.

These, however, were the developments which kept hope for peace alive.

1. The secret trip to Berlin of Finland's venerable former President, Per Evind Svinhufvud, who may see Hitler, the new friend of Joseph Stalin.

2. Official announcement in Berlin that Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop is going to Italy tomorrow to see Benito Mussolini. The Swedish effort for mediation between Russia and Finland is expected to be a prime topic.

U.S. AS MEDIATOR

3. Predictions in informed London sources that the United States might eventually be nominated as a mediator between Russia and Finland because she is the "one nation both parties trust." These predictions, while unofficial, were accompanied by authoritative declarations in both Paris and London that the Allies will continue to help Finland if she decides to fight "until the bitter end."

4. Reports the final decision for Finland on peace or a finish fight rests now with Field Marshal Baron Mannerheim, the Finnish commander, who, in 1918, fought off the Russian Reds while Svinhufvud obtained German troops. This decision, the Oslo newspaper Tidens Tegn reported, rests with the chances Mannerheim finds of help from abroad. Some reports said Mannerheim now was in Stockholm. Sweden so far has refused direct military aid to Finland.

CONTACT UNBROKEN

5. Published reports quoting Foreign Minister Vaino Tanner, of Finland, that "the Finnish Government has been in contact with a go-between for the Soviet Union and this contact has not been broken."

There also were unconfirmed reports that the Finnish diplomat J. K. Paasikivi had flown, also, to Berlin, and that Marshal Vasiliy Blucher, former Soviet Far Eastern commander, was expected in Stockholm.

In any event, the negotiations springing from Sweden's desperate desire to keep herself out of war, appeared to be reaching a critical point—one way or the other.

Success or failure hinged plainly on whether Russia is willing to scale down her demands enough to give Finland an acceptable basis for compromise. Russia's demands are reported to embrace cession of the Karelian Isthmus, Viipuri, the whole Hanko Peninsula and its naval port; regulation of the frontier north of Lake Ladoga to Sortavala to make the entire northern coast of the lake Russian territory and concessions of land in the Petsamo Arctic district where the Canadian-operated nickel mines are located.

POSSIBLE FACTORS

Those Scandinavians who believe Russia might come down on her price and that Finland might then accept pointed to:

1. Soviet Russia's desire to end her costly invasion.

2. Finland's inability to continue fighting without more outside help except at the cost of destroying her youth and her country itself.

Says Wealthy Tourists Are Heading West

Predicting an increase in the "wealthy class" of tourist travel this year, Harold S. Gilbert, advertising director of Outdoors and In magazine, Los Angeles, who visited the city yesterday, believes that many of the Eastern travelers, who ordinarily go to Europe, will visit the Pacific Coast this year.

"It is possible that some of those with lower incomes will stay at home because they came West to the San Francisco Fair last year, but the wealthy class is heading West. I have been selling them the idea of the circle tour, taking in the Pacific Northwest and California," he said.

Mr. Gilbert has just completed a swing through the Eastern states and the Middle West. While here he called on E. G. Rowebottom, deputy minister of trade and industry.

He said that Californians are "definitely interested in the idea of getting 10 per cent more for their holiday money owing to the exchange."

Miss Hallet Is Bride of Mr. Crossan

Of interest to Victorians is the wedding account which appeared in The Montreal Star, February 24, as follows:

"Spring flowers decorated the Church of the Messiah, illumined with candlelight, for the marriage solemnized on Saturday afternoon February 24, at 3 o'clock, of Miss Rica Halet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Halet, Montreal, formerly of Victoria, B.C., to Mr. John Howard Crossan, Montreal, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Crossan, Toronto. Rev. Dr. Lawrence Clare performed the ceremony, and Mr. George Brewer played the wedding music.

"Given in marriage by her father the bride wore an Empire floor-length gown of white rose pointe lace with long sleeves, her shoulder-length veil of tulle illusion falling from a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried pale pink roses. Miss Jean Oswald, the bridesmaid, was in a frock of pale blue chiffon trimmed with pink, wore a matching toque and carried pink roses.

"Mr. Arthur Bell was best man, and the ushers were Dr. Robert Halet, Malartic Goldfields, brother of the bride, and Mr. William Massie.

"A small reception for the families of the bridal couple and a few intimate friends was held at the Berkeley Hotel after the ceremony Later Mr. and Mrs. Crossan left to spend their honeymoon at Lake Placid, the latter traveling in a dusty pink wool frock trimmed with blue, a matching toque and muskrat coat with blue accessories. They will reside on Cote St. Catherine Road upon their return."

Repeat Operetta For Big Audience

The second night's performance at First United Church schoolroom of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "Trial by Jury," with its preface of a short concert programme, realized a capacity house once again. The cast was unchanged for the operetta, and comment was made that the names of the "spectators" had inadvertently been omitted from the printed programme, being as follows: Mrs. A. N. Perry, Mrs. F. Holdridge, Mrs. W. B. Crowther, and Misses E. Pettícrew, Agnes Petticrew, E. Mercer, E. Holdridge, I. McDiarmid, C. Crawford, J. Wilson, G. McKay, B. Patterson and M. Johnson. Miss Jessie Smith, G. H. Peaker and Jack Smith shared the duties of accompanist, Mrs. W. H. Wilson again being conductor.

Annual Linen Shower Held For Hospital

The Women's Auxiliary of the Jubilee Hospital welcomed a large crowd of guests to the Nurses' Home yesterday afternoon, the occasion of the annual linen shower. The sum of $102.50 in cash was received, together with 730 pieces of linen, which included towels, pillow slips, tray cloths, table napkins and other useful requisites. Mrs. J. Sutherland Brown, Mrs. C. T. Beard and Miss Blanchet received the linen and cash, and Miss Curry was in charge of the donation list.

Tea was served in the recreation room, where Mrs. T. M. Miller, first vice-president, and Miss Lena Mitchell, superintendent of nursing, received the guests. It was much regretted that Mrs. Hamber was unable to be present, having been called back to Vancouver. Members of the board of directors, wives of members of the medical profession and many citizens interested in the welfare of the hospital were among the guests.

The room looked particularly attractive with its decorations of plum blossom and other Spring flowers, the fireplace being banked with forsythia and fern, while the special guest table was arranged with primroses and daffodils. The tea table, at which Mrs. J. D. Hunter and Mrs. G. A. McCurdy presided, was arranged with daffodils and blue iris, and illuminated by yellow candles in silver candelabra. Mrs. Guy Ford and Mrs. Hunter were conveners of the tea arrangements, and were assisted in serving by members of the auxiliary.

A delightful addition to the enjoyment of the afternoon was Mrs. T. H. Johns' singing. Her first group of solos included "Sing Again" (Protheroe), "A Walk by the River" (Goatley), and the second group, "Floods of Spring" (Rachmanihoff) and "A Little Song of Life" (Malotte). Mrs. G. A. McCurdy played the accompaniments.

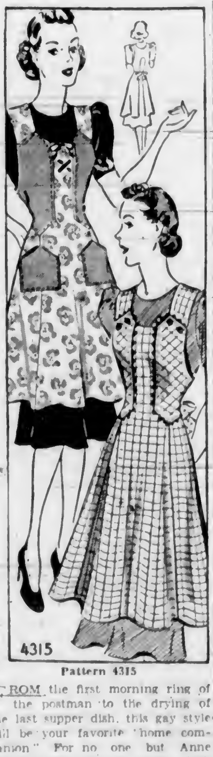
Vivacious Basque-Type Apron

By ANNE ADAMS



Pattern 4315

FROM the first morning ring of the postman to the drying of the last supper dish, this gay style will be your favorite "home companion." For no one but Anne Adams could put so much dash into an apron. Pattern 4315 is such an easy sewing job, too. The whole back bodice is cut in one simple piece, and its front panel forms a single piece with the skirt panel. Those pointed side bodice sections are on the bias and may be in gay contrast, if you wish, with pockets to match. The skirt has nice, easy width. Choose lacings, buttons or ric-rac for colorful trim, and make this apron of sprightly printed cotton.

Pattern 4315 is available in sizes small, medium and large. Small size, apron C, takes 2⅓ yards 35-inch fabric; apron A, 2⅓ yards 35-inch fabric and 1⅞ yards ric-rac.

Send 20c in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly size, name, address and style number.

Send your order to The Daily Colonist, Pattern Department, Victoria, B.C.

New Hospital Unit Will Be Constructed

Blueprints and specifications for a new $100,000 wing at the Royal Jubilee Hospital are practically complete, and it is anticipated that construction will be commenced this month, Dr. T. W. Walker, medical superintendent, announced yesterday.

The specifications call for a four-story building of pressed brick and reinforced concrete, with accommodation for sixty-five beds. It will be between the east wing and the old administration building.

The new wing will have provision for semi-private rooms, and will make it possible for the hospital to have an up-to-date isolation unit.

Birthday Party Held Up-Island

March 5 was gala day at Cedar Community (Speedway) Hall for Cedar Women's Institute as then they celebrated their annual birthday party, which was the sixteenth anniversary.

A short business session with nineteen members in attendance was preceded by a minute silence in memory of the late Governor-General, Lord Tweedsmuir.

A delightful programme followed in which several members and friends of the institute took part as follows: Soprano solo, Miss M. Clark; contralto solo, "Just a Song at Twilight," Mrs. S. Guthrie; tenor solo by Mr. Duncan Bennie; accordion solo by Mr. Alan Galloway, and recitation by Mrs. Pintott. Mrs. John Maguire, the secretary, proved an able accompanist.

An amateur puppet show, "Jack and the Beanstalk," cleverly made and operated by a teacher and her elder pupils, created a great deal of interest.

VIRGINIA REEL

An exciting and amusing game was next in order, then an old-fashioned Virginia reel was entered into with spirit, followed by a contest, "The Old and the New."

Supper was served at two long tables, decorated with crepe paper in the institute colors—green, yellow and white—which were again repeated in the lovely daffodils and snowdrops which adorned the table at intervals. In the centre, in front of the institute executive, stood the birthday cake, beautifully iced and adorned with sixteen candles, which were lit towards the end of the feast. Mrs. Alex Galloway made the cake.

After a few words to the forty assembled guests, Mrs. Thomas, the president, cut into the cake and sent it away to be cut into small pieces for distribution. Community songs were led by Mr. Bennie. The invited guests were Mrs. Smith, Nanaimo River, her daughter and granddaughter, also Mr. and Mrs. Pintott, Nanaimo.

Ethel Basham, D.D.S., Vancouver, will give a trance address by the control "Verona," the subject being "After Transition, What?" There will be a special message meeting after the evening service. The soloist will be Mrs. F. G. Aldous. On Monday, at 7:45 p.m. Dr. Basham will conduct another message meeting, and on Thursday, at 8 o'clock, the usual message and healing circle will be held, both meeting in Room 3, Surrey Block.

SAVING THE UTENSILS

The family and their guest had just seated themselves at the table.

"Susie," said the mother, "why didn't you put a knife and fork at Mr. McKlunk's place?"

"He don't need any, mother," replied Susie. "You said he eats like a horse."

Witty Kitty

The mentally sketchy girl-friend feels her beau is flattering her when he says she has the lightest head he's ever seen.

EPIC OF SOUTH HAS PREMIERE

Victorians Thrill as "Gone With the Wind" Is Presented Here

Two large and appreciative audiences thrilled yesterday at the Capitol Theatre to the Victoria premiere of "Gone With the Wind," Margaret Mitchell's best-selling tale of the Old South, before, during and after the Civil War that saw its civilization go down before the new nation of the North.

Shown in its entirety, exactly as presented at its famous Atlanta premiere, the three-and-three-quarter-hour picture offers ample evidence why it won nine academy awards.

Technically the production is perfect, so perfect that the smoothness prevents awareness of unaccustomed length, and the cameras unfold technicolor scenes of great beauty.

Yesterday the filmgoers sat enthralled with the moving sweep of a well-told story, the lengthy scenes giving a depth and richness that are denied in a film of ordinary length.

SUPERB VITALITY

Margaret Mitchell's Scarlett O'Hara, wilful, ruthless, but with a flaming will to live, is brought to the screen with superb vitality by Vivien Leigh, and her full-length portrayal has not yet had its counterpart on the screen.

Rivaling her in fidelity to her role is Olivia De Haviland, and Clark Gable, Leslie Howard, and a host of lesser characters are perfectly cast. The Negro mammy, Hattie McDaniel, is so good she steals her scenes.

Unwittingly, "Gone With the Wind" points a lesson that will not be lost on wartime Canada—the lesson that honor and a careless courage will not avail against an enemy well equipped and overpowering in numbers and materials.

That's the lesson that the gay, generous, sporting Southerners of Margaret Mitchell learned, and the manner of its learning, and the tangle of lives and emotions that follow on the defeat of the Confederate Army, is what makes up the mighty, human drama that is "Gone With the Wind."

MALAHAT VETERANS MEET AT BAMBERTON

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, March 8—Meeting at Bamberton, the Malahat Branch of the Canadian Legion held its regular session on Tuesday evening with the president, Lieut.-Col. F. T. Oldham, in the chair. One new member, C. W. Hall, of Cobble Hill, was initiated.

A final report on the local Canadian Legion War Services drive showed that $222.57 was collected in this district. During the social hour at the close of the meeting, a past president's badge was presented to G. G. Orr.

SAMIS BEATEN IN CANADIAN BADMINTON TOURNEY

Cobb Meets Hogan Today in Final of Annual Tournament

Will Decide Holder of Beatty Trophy Event in Golf Meet at Colwood—Ted Colgate Defeats Jimmy Hogan in Final of Open Event, Two Up

short fourth, Hogan's tee shot was pin high to the right, while Ted's skimmed across the pond, went up the bank and rolled back into the water. Colgate studied the situation and finally figured it was too tough to tackle and picked up. They halved the next and Colgate three-putted the sixth and then broke even on the next three to hit the halfway mark still one down.

Colgate squared the match at the tenth when Hogan smacked a tee shot out of bounds and then was stymied on the green. The Colwood shotmaker three-putted the next green and once again Hogan took the lead and the twelfth went to Colgate after he banged a great tee shot to great advantage. The Victorian had more trouble with his putter at the thirteenth and he lost the hole and again Hogan went into the lead.

But back came Colgate at the 500-yard fourteenth and he canned a fine putt for birdie four. They halved the next hole in three, although the gallery got a thrill when Hogan's long putt rimmed the cup for a birdie. Hogan went wild on the next hole, his drive being under the trees on the left. He played across the fairway into more bushes and his third went back over the straightaway again and he lost the hole to Colgate's par four.

COLGATE DORMIE

They halved the seventeenth in par fours and at the eighteenth hole, with Colgate dormie, Hogan dubbed his drive about 125 yards down towards the tenth fairway and had to play over the trees to get back on the right track. He did this well and got on in three but Ted was home in two and got his par four to finish the match.

Kenny Black, Vancouver, present holder of the Canadian amateur golf championship, refereed the match.

STEIL VS. COBB

Overcoming a four-up lead at the ninth, P. H. Cobb came back with a brilliant rally on the back stretch to take the lead against the veteran Steil at the fourteenth and then went on to win the decision at the twenty-first.

Cobb received five strokes, three on the first nine and two on the incoming route. The first two holes were halved, Cobb getting an even break at the third with the use of a stroke. Steil took the lead at the fourth, increased it at the next green and then went three up by winning the sixth with a par four to Cobb's six. Lee went still farther ahead at the short seventh with another par, and the next two holes were halved to leave the Sound City shotmaker four up at the turn.

The tide certainly changed on the route back to the clubhouse when Cobb uncorked a fine array of golf shots which Steil could not match. The ultimate winner won the tenth with a birdie three, the next with a par and the twelfth with the use of another stroke. He continued his winning streak and captured the thirteenth with a par and the long fourteenth with a similar score to take the lead for the first time. That was five straight which Cobb had won.

After halving the fifteenth in threes, Steil squared the battle at the next green with a par four, and the last two were even Stephen and the match was sent into overtime. They halved the nineteenth and twentieth, and then Cobb took the decision at the next hole when they both got fours, but a stroke settled the outcome.

HOGAN—BRACHAT

Ernie Brachat gave Jimmy Hogan a tough battle after being four down at the turn. Hogan captured the first two holes of the match with two fours to Gorge Vale lad's fives. Brachat received a stroke at the third, but he didn't need it as Hogan ran into plenty of trouble and conceded the hole. The Jasper youngster played a fine tee shot at the short fourth and got a two, a birdie, to go two up again. Brachat halved the next with another stroke, and then Jimmy won the sixth with a par and increased his lead to four holes by taking the seventh with another regulation figure. The next was halved and also the ninth, Brachat dividing with his third stroke of the match, leaving him still four down at the turn.

Hogan was out in 35, even par, with a six at the third, while Brachat had a 41.

Starting on the back nine, Hogan increased his margin to five up at the dog-leg with a par four to Brachat's five. The local shotmaker hit a fine tee shot at the eleventh and got his par for another win. The next two were halved with Brachat receiving strokes at both holes. At the long fourteenth the Albertan ran into trouble for the second time and finally picked to leave him three up and four holes left. Brachat prolonged the battle momentarily by winning the short fifteenth with a par as Jimmy went over. The sixteenth and seventeenth were halved in fives and it was curtains for Brachat.

Arrows Will Open Senior Play-Offs Here Next Friday

VANCOUVER, March 8 (CP).—Officials of the British Columbia Amateur Basketball Association said here today that the series for the provincial title will open at Victoria with games there on March 15 and 16. The next three games of the best-of-five series are scheduled for March 22, 23 and 25 at Vancouver. Arrows will represent Victoria and will meet the winner of the Tookes-Maple Leafs city league play-downs now in progress here. The former team took a one-game lead Thursday when they defeated the Leafs, 47-44, in the third fixture.

GALT CUP PLAY STARTS SUNDAY

Trophy Competition Billed at Oak Bay Golf Club—Post Entries Accepted

Qualifying round in the Galt Cup competition will be played Sunday at the Victoria Golf Club, and will consist of eighteen holes medal play on handicap. The sixteen players making the lowest net scores will qualify. Match play will follow over eighteen holes with three-quarters of the difference in handicaps allowed.

Competitors, other than those who qualify will be divided into flights. Prizes will be given for the best net score in the qualifying round and to the flight winners. The competition winner will hold the cup one year, and will receive an additional award. The runner-up will also receive a prize.

All matches will be eighteen holes with the exception of the final, which will be thirty-six holes, and may be played on two days if the finalists so desire.

Post entries will be received. Competitors will arrange for their opponents and starting times.

COAST HOCKEY

PORTLAND, March 8 (AP).—The Seattle Seahawks closed their 1939-40 season here by defeating the Portland Buckaroos, 4-1, in a "just for fun" Pacific Coast Hockey League game.

The game had no effect on league standings. Portland beat Seattle last night to clinch second place and a spot in the play-off against Vancouver, leader of the three-team league.

RED PRINCE SCRATCHED

LONDON, March 8 (CP).—Lord Bicester's Red Prince, 45-to-1 candidate for the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree, April 5, has been scratched.

His trainer told the Press Association the horse had injured a ligament while at work and will not run again this season.

Another candidate for the big race, E. W. Bailey's Rudolph IV, was scratched at 10:50 a.m.

Falkirk and Rangers to Battle in Feature Game

Leaders in Scottish Regional Groups Meet Today In Cup Football Match on Former's Grounds —Eight Second-Round Encounters

LONDON, March 8 (CP).—Sixteen Scottish soccer clubs meet tomorrow in the second round for the Scottish Wartime Cup. The games stand out on a card that finds most of England's teams engaged in regional group fixtures.

Leaders in the East and West Scottish regional groups, Falkirk and Rangers face a gruelling cup test on the former's ground. With Falkirk particularly strong on the attack, and the light blues boasting and airtight defence, the advantage of home ground may prove a deciding factor.

The cup contests will be played on a sudden-death basis. First round games were decided in two-game, home-and-home series with goals counting on the round.

Hearts tackle Raith Rovers, conquerors of the famous Celts, at Tynecastle Park, and in other hard battles St. Mirren play at Hamilton, and Dunfermline at Clyde. Dunfermline drew a bye in the opening round.

The new competitions for London and Southern clubs present attractive fixture lists. Tottenham Hotspurs, leaders in South "C," clash with Brentford at White Hart Lane and are favored to retain their place at the top of the standing. Crystal Palace, out in front with a two-point advantage in South "D," is away to Watford, its closest competitor.

BIG CONTENDERS

Another match between championship contenders is scheduled for Chesterfield, where Sheffield United provide the opposition. The teams are locked at the top of the East Midlands group with fourteen points each. Preston North End may break into a clear lead in the North-west. The squad has a home tilt with Carlisle, tail-ender in the league, while Bury, at present sharing top berth with Preston, goes to Burnley.

Stoke City's 3-1 victory over Wrexham last week-end put the team on top of the Western section and it should encounter little difficulty against New Brighton tomorrow.

The Scottish Wartime Cup second round draw:

Kilmarnock vs. Albion Rovers.
Dumbarton vs. Airdrieonians.
Hamilton Academicals vs. St. Mirren.
Hearts vs. Raith Rovers.
Falkirk vs. Rangers.
Clyde vs. Dunfermline.
Dundee United vs. Third Lanark.
Morton vs. Motherwell.

Eight Aces Defeat Nanaimo Cagers But Lose Series

(Special to The Colonist)

NANAIMO, March 8.—Victoria Eight Aces, intermediate "A" boys' basketball team won and lost here tonight. The young cagemen from the British Columbia capital defeated Harvey Murphy's, 24-21, in the second and final game of the Vancouver Island championship series, but suffered a 48-46 setback in the total-point play-downs. Tonight's game was keenly fought all the way, with the visiting hoopsters battling like Trojans to wipe out the five-point advantage gained by Harvey Murphy's when the quintettes played last week at Victoria. Three minutes from time Aces were leading, 23-18, and the series stood deadlocked at 45-45. Nicol, tall centreman, sank a field basket and Manson dropped home one shot from the strip to give the Nanaimo squad a three-point lead in the two games. Visitors scored once from the foul line and the game and series were over with Harvey Murphy's retaining the championship they won last year by defeating the same Victoria squad. Victoria's Junior Dominoes, scheduled to play Nanaimo Moffats in an exhibition game prior to the championship fixture, were late in arriving, and the teams only played for fifteen minutes. The score was 8-7 for the locals. Aces were thirty minutes late getting on the floor.

Ena Short to Face Joan Fletcher for Empress Golf Title

Two Victoria Girls to Battle Today for Coveted Trophy at Colwood Course—Mrs. McIlraith Loses in Close Match at the Nineteenth

Fighting desperately to stay in the running for the coveted Sir Edward Beatty Trophy, Mrs. James McIlraith, wife of the secretary of the Colwood Club, dropped a tough decision to Miss Ena Short, Oak Bay Club, in the feature match in the women's division as play continued in the semi-finals in the twelfth annual Empress golf tournament.

The tournament medallist, Miss Short, who was given seventeen strokes on the regulation eighteen holes, went to the first extra green to gain the decision after a keenly-fought struggle. In today's final, the Oak Bay miss will clash with Miss Joan Fletcher, Uplands Club, for the silverware. Miss Fletcher won an easy verdict from Mrs. R. R. Brough, last year's medal winner 6 and 4.

The only green which Mrs. McIlraith didn't give a stroke was the 220-yard eleventh, and the ultimate winner took that with a four to a five.

The first hole was halved and then the Oak Bay contender took the lead at the next, but Mrs. McIlraith came back and squared the battle with a well played par five to her opponent's eight. The Colwood lady took the lead at the short fourth with a par three, then halved the next and won the sixth to go two up. A stroke gave Miss Short the eighth and she won the ninth without the use of her handicap to square the match.

TAKES OVER LEAD

Mrs. McIlraith captured the lead again on the tenth with a neatly played par five to Miss Short's seven, but the medalist rallied and took the next with a four to a five to even it up again. The match continued and Mrs. McIlraith moved into a two up advantage at the fifteenth carpet. A stroke gave the qualifying leader an even break at the next green and then Miss Short took the two final holes with the use of strokes to square the argument. They both had sixes at the first extra hole, but the stroke advantage in Miss Short's favor ended the battle.

In the Fletcher-Brough match the first hole was halved, but the former took the lead the next green and increased at the third, despite teh fact that she three-putted. A three gave Miss Fletcher the short fourth, which she played very well indeed, and then she boosted her margin at the dog-leg fifth with a six to go four up. She continued to increase her lead and captured the sixth with a five, but Mrs. Brough came back to take the next with a par three. Back came the young Uplands lady, who won the trophy two years ago on the same course, and won the eighth, but Mrs. Brough took the ninth and they rounded into the back stretch with Miss Fletcher still out in front, four up.

ENDS THE MATCH

Miss Fletcher took the tenth although she three-putted, and then she picked up at the eleventh to leave Mrs. Brough four down. The winner three-putted the next two, but got a win at the twelfth and halved the next. She came back and played the fourteenth well for a par five to decide the decision for the day.

At the Theatres

ATLAS THEATRE "Another Thin Man," latest of the sparkling "Thin Man" series, which ends today at the Atlas Theatre, teams that favorite screen pair, William Powell and Myrna Loy, once again as the shrewd and witty Detective Nick Charles and charming wife, Nora.

CADET THEATRE In her latest film, "Drums," which ends today at the Cadet Theatre, Valerie Hobson shares featured honors with Sabu, the sensational Indian child discovery of "Elephant Boy," Raymond Massey and Desmond Tester. The production was directed by Zoltan Korda from the story by A. E. W. Mason and is released through United Artists.

DOMINION THEATRE Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy are starred in "Charlie McCarthy, Detective," which is now showing at the Dominion Theatre, with Bergen's other wooden wonder boy, bucolic Mortimer Snerd. Included in the cast are flesh-and-blood players Cummings, Constance Moore, John Sutton, Louis Calhern, Edgar Kennedy, Samuel S. Hinds, Harold Huber, Ray Turner and Warren Hymer.

OAK BAY THEATRE Frank Craven and Fay Bainter guide "Our Neighbors—the Carters" through a dramatic story of family crises in the Paramount film, which will end today at the Oak Bay Theatre. Edmund Lowe and Genevieve Tobin are also featured in the production. The five Carter children are played by Gloria Carter, Bennie Bartlett, Scotty Beckett, Donald Brenon and Joyce Arleen.

PLAZA THEATRE Oliver Wakefield, handsome young British movie star, who recently became a radio sensation in the United States with his "double-talk," introduces some new verbal fun with Gracie Fields and Sydney Howard in "Shipyard Sally," which ends today at the Plaza Theatre.

RIO THEATRE John Wayne, the star of "Stagecoach," gives another of his thrill-and-action-packed stories of the West in "Telegraph Trail," which will end today at the Rio Theatre. Also on the same bill, Shirley Temple is featured in "Susanna of the Mounties."

CAPITOL THEATRE "Gone With the Wind," which is now showing at the Capitol Theatre, is the costliest film in Hollywood history. It is showing signs of becoming the most profitable one, according to reports from twenty-seven key cities throughout America where the production has been showing for the past seven weeks. The $4,000,000 production cost will be cleared before the end of this week, statistics show. The picture is expected to bring in $17,000,000 before the end of the year, according to the survey.

Letters to the Editor

DISTORTING OF FACTS

Sports Editor:

Sir,—As a spectator of the hard-fought and sporting Inter-School Rugby match between Brentwood College and St. George's School, Vancouver, at the Varsity Stadium on Saturday, I was astonished to read in The Canadian Press account of the game in Sunday's Colonist that Brentwood's fullback, Ian Gillespie, had deliberately tripped a St. George's player from behind just as he was about to score and that to everyone's surprise the referee did not give a penalty try.

May I say here and now, that having seen the incident referred to, that this statement is both entirely untrue and a cruel slander against the player, the school and the referee, and shows both utter lack of knowledge of the rules, distortion of the facts and bad sportsmanship on the part of the person reporting.

I might add that having followed most of the Inter-School Rugby throughout the season I have yet to see the slightest suggestion of dirty play amongst any of the schools taking part and, in my humble opinion, there is no higher standard of clean play and sportsmanship to be found anywhere.

Saturday's game was no exception and it seems too bad that one poor sport on the sidelines should try and besmirch a fine game and slander a fine player.

M. A. W. BRIDGMAN.

LEW JENKINS STOPS LARKIN IN ONE ROUND

Quick Knockout Puts Texas Lightweight in Line For Title Bout

NEW YORK, March 8 (AP).—Lew Jenkins, knockout specialist from Sweetwater, Tex., climbed into a commanding spot for a chance at the lightweight championship tonight by flattening Tippy Larkin, Garfield, N.J., boxer, in the first round of a scheduled fifteen-round fight in Madison Square Garden.

Jenkins weighed 134¼; Larkin 135¼.

Tearing out with the bell, the slugger from the Southwest took command immediately. He threw both fists without a stop, finally connecting with a series of solid lefts and rights, and Larkin dropped in his own corner.

He went sound asleep as Referee Pete Hartly counted the full ten. The time was 2:41.

For his convincing display, Jenkins was immediately promised a fight with Champion Lou Ambers for the lightweight title in this same arena on May 10. Promoter Mike Jacobs made the announcement as Larkin was assisted from the ring by his handlers and the jubilant Jenkins headed for his dressing room.

JENKINS FAVORITE

Jenkins was a bare favorite at fight time, at odds of no more than five to eight, despite his record of having whipped all eight of his previous New York opponents—the last five by knockouts.

Larkin, who has been somewhat of a kayo specialist in his own right, made a futile attempt to jab and box, but Lew broke through in a hurry, chased the Jersey boy back and floored him.

He landed on his back and rolled over on his face as his handlers gaped, open-mouthed at their gladiator, lying in the resin in the same corner he had left only a few minutes before.

It was the most convincing display of dynamite by a little man since Tony Canzoneri was around, tossing his bombs.

Final Today in Four-Ball Meet At Coral Gables

CORAL GABLES, Fla., March 8 (AP).—Billy Burke has been something of a forgotten man in big-time golf the last several years, but the records show that over a long route he is still one of the best in the business.

That is one reason he and Craig Wood are favored to beat Dick Metz and Ky Laffoon tomorrow in the delayed thirty-six-hole finals of the $5,000 international four-ball tournament.

Wood and Burke knocked out the formidable team of Sam Snead and Ralph Guldahl on its way to the four-ball finals, but nobody expects a runaway with Metz and Laffoon.

CUSTOM HOUSE RACE WINNER

HAYDOCK PARK, England, March 8 (CP).—Captain Scott Briggs' MacMoffat received his first outing today since he finished second in last year's Grand National Steeplechase and ran third in the three-mile Craft Chase here.

Custom House won the event, defeating Lieut.-Col. H. E. Joicey's Venturesome Knight, like MacMoffat a candidate for this year's Grand National at Aintree, April 5, by three lengths. Eight lengths separated Venturesome Knight and MacMoffat.

'Man' Will Be Subject On Sunday

"Man" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday. The Golden Text is: "O man greatly beloved, fear not; peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong" (Daniel x, 19).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on Him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life" (John v, 24).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The calm, strong currents of true spirituality, the manifestations of which are health, purity, and self-immolation must deepen human experience, until the beliefs of material existence are seen to be a bald imposition, and sin, disease, and death give everlasting place to the scientific demonstration of divine Spirit and to God's spiritual, perfect man."

"Will God turn Russia back and is Divine interference not already at work which will turn Hitler East?" "What events are foreshadowed which will forge still closer ties between Russia and Germany, according to Ezekiel?"

"What are the indications that the conflict is turning towards Palestine?" "Why such large British troop concentrations in Palestine and Syria?" "Are they preparing for a southward move from Germany and Russia?"

What Today Means

"PISCES"

If March 9 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. until 12 noon; from 2 to 4 p.m., and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 to 10 a.m.; from 6 to 8 p.m., and from 10 p.m. until midnight.

Through stretching their imaginations a few people may distort facts, hence some very fantastic statements may be made to you on this day. Do not take anyone's promises or comments too literally, for the average person's loquaciousness may consist largely of words, without meaning, unsustained by any dependable intentions. The unexpected is liable to happen on March 9, and plans may have to be changed to meet altered conditions. Do not let disappointment cause you to appear ungracious, for that will only complicate the situation to the extent that any attempts satisfactorily to straighten things out will meet with failure. Exert yourself in being entertaining and you may be pleasantly surprised at the reactions you will cause. Married and engaged couples, as well as sweethearts, must avoid appearing secretive or mysterious if an unpleasant amount of suspicion is to be avoided.

If you are a woman and March 9 is your birthday, if you make it a point to seek first your family's approval of an act and then that of your friends, you may save yourself from many hours of unhappiness. Loyalty is a trait which is most important for you to demonstrate to the nth degree, for your entire future may be affected by it. Be careful lest a sense of self-satisfaction makes you impervious to constructive criticism. Should you engage in teaching, selling, dramatic work, trained nursing, interior decorating, restaurant management, painting or concert stage work you may surpass your most sanguine expectations. With you, love and marriage should be synonymous, provided you do your part to make them so.

The child born on March 9 is susceptible to being easily spoiled, so parents of children born under Pisces must use common sense in the nurturing of their offspring. Generally well-equipped mentally to fight the battle of life, they need only the opportunity to demonstrate their ability and efficiency.

If you are a man and March 9 is your natal day, if you will remember that good fellowship and thrift mix no better than do oil and water, you may save yourself many dollars. Learn to be prudent in making investments and in the handling of money if you wish to be prosperous. Through selling, manufacturing, some theatrical activity, teaching, lecturing, journalism, authorship, medicine, music or art, you may win a reputation and a worth-while accumulation of tangible assets.

MAY FILL VACANCY

CUMBERLAND, March 8 — A vacancy on the Board of School Trustees exists. The secretary of the board, it was reported, has given the City Council and the Government full particulars regarding the vacancy and has recommended William Vahie to fill the position. This was decided after the council failed to hold an election.
